Grace Kelly And Her Prince Plan To Be Wed After Easter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Grace Kelly, the movies' blonde beauty with the patrician manner, will marry Prince Rainier III of Monaco soon after Easter.

She said so at a press reception in her parents' home here late yesterday, several hours after the surprise announcement that the Oscar-winning actress and one of the most eligible bachelors anywhere were engaged.

Hollywood, used to surprises, has seldom been more flabbergasted.

The little Riviera domain of the handsome 32-year-old Arainier made today a full holiday, keeping up a merry pace set by a jubilant people when they heard the first radio bulletin. The radio in Monte Carlo, gambling mecca and showplace of the principality, has talked about little else since.

The prince and his 26-year-old serene highness - to - be were toasted in champagne. Flowers were wreathed around their pictures in shop windows. Everyone rejoiced that Rainer at last would take a wife.

If he were to die without heir his principality, which requires its 20,000 population to pay no taxes, would revert to French rule with French tax rates prevailing.

Miss Kelly, in radiant mood, told newsmen who jammed the family mansion for the reception that she did indeed plan a family.

Both Miss Kelly and the prince are Roman Catholics. Neither has been married before. What's more, Grace said that she was in love only once before, with a Philadelphia boy now dead. Thus did she dispose of persistent rumors until recently of a romance between her and actor Jean Pierre Aumont.

The press reception in the big, sprawling house of John B. Kelly, millionaire builder and civic leader, was gay and informal.

A reporter asked Kelly: "How do you feel about this? Are you happy about it?"

"Sure," said the father genially. "It's all right. Yes, it's fine."

When the question was put to Miss Kelly whether she planned a large family, she laughed and nodded yes. She was about to elaborate but her mother took it from there, asserting:

"Why, certainly she'll have a large family. I'm a grandmother and I like a lot of grandchildren."

Miss Kelly said the actual wedding date has not been set, and that it is uncertain whether the ceremony will be performed here or in Monaco.

She and the prince are due in New York for tonight's Monte Carlo Ball at the Waldorf Astoria, an annual charity affair. They will be guests of honor.

Miss Kelly said she intends to leave New York by air for Hollywood tomorrow morning. Soon afterward the prince will set out for Florida in his automobile, but he did not specify his exact destination.

Miss Kelly, whose rise to the top in films has been one of Hollywood's outstanding stories of well-deserved success, said she will take a leave of absence after completing her commitments on two pictures, work on the first of which is expected to start Jan. 17.

Does the elegant Grace Kelly, Oscar winner in 1955, mean to retire from the movies after her marriage in April?

"I plan to live in Monaco" was all that she would say.

If Miss Kelly goes to live in Monaco, someone asked, will she have a title?

At that time she was entertained in the palace at Monte Carlo.

"His simplicity completely conquered me," she said.

And what sort of life will it be in Monaco, a 370-acre dot of land on a great splatter of map?

To start with, there's a palace on the Mediterranean, a yacht, four cars and a budget in six figures, even a private zoo. The prince has a palace staff of three women and three men, plus a personal guard of 12 motorcyclists and four chauffeurs.

New Play Area In Sight For Southend Area

Lease Of Eshelman Property To Be Offered City Council

New efforts to set up a playground in the Southend are well underway, it was learned today.

A lease on 2.4 acres of property south of the site of the old Sears Canning factory has been drawn up and will be presented to city council at its next meeting, set for Jan. 17. The property is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Eshelman.

According to terms of the lease, the property may be used by the city for the playground for an indefinite period for a token price of $1. Either side can terminate the agreement with 30 days notice.

Judge Guy W. Cline, speaking Thursday before the Rotary Club, an organization which has taken an active interest in the playground, outlined some of the plans for the program.

* * *

THE ROTARY organization has agreed to contribute money towards getting the land in suitable condition for use as a playground if city council accepts the lease.

The Child Conservation League, which has also been interested in such a project for several years, has $100 in its treasury earmarked for playground facilities in the Southend.

Judge Cline said if all goes well, the playground could be ready for use by late Spring, when it is hoped a baseball diamond will be laid out.

It is also hoped that funds can be made available for an outdoor basketball court and other recreational facilities.

Local Survey Set To Get Vital Data

A survey of the working population of Circleville and the surrounding county is set for launching next week and all residents of the district are asked to give the project their full cooperation.

Ultimate top aim of the organized study is to provide data which can be used by potential new industries — firms considering local spots as possible plant sites. Thus, it was pointed out, the survey seeks to bring benefits back to the individual through the continued development and greater prosperity of the area.

Those in charge of the canvass, agents of the local office of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, have emphasized it will not involve obligations for anyone. All of the information gathered will be held confidential in the form of general statistics.

It is believed to be the first survey of its kind ever planned here, having been requested by The Circleville Herald as a public service.

* * *

PRIMARY purpose of the checkup is to determine the number of Pickaway County residents who are employed outside the county. The figure thus obtained will be a reliable estimate in judging the labor pool available in the district.

A large percentage of those who travel outside the county to get the jobs they want would be potential employes for any new industry moving into this area.

The gathered data will also show whether the employed person in any individual report is male or female, the age of the person, the type of employment, number in the family, whether the wife is working, and whether the person owns or rents his or her home.

Leaders of the project expressed the hope that word of the coming survey will be circulated as widely as possible, so that the Prudential agents will be welcomed when they begin their house-to-house canvass.

The survey is expected to take about two months, and will extend to all sections of the county.

James Alexander, Ted Culp, Edgar Davis, Howard Glitt, Eugene (Doc) Owens, and Roscoe Warren.

Williamsport Mayor Has Petitions Out

Mayor Bill Johnson of Williamsport today was reported to have taken out petitions as a candidate, on the Democratic ticket, for Pickaway County commissioner. Several others are also in the race.

Commissioner Harley Mace will continue in office. Neither Commissioner Bill Goode nor Commissioner Lyman Penn has yet announced plans to seek re-election.

Some Dems See Second Term Hint In Eisenhower's Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Democrats today read into President Eisenhower's State of the Union message strong indications that he may seek a second term.

Republicans professed to find no such clues in a document which Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, said yesterday was full of "political overtones."

Sen. McClelland (D-Ark) said the tone of Eisenhower's message to Congress indicated to him that unless some adverse physical report is forthcoming Eisenhower is getting ready to run again.

McClelland commented that many of the President's proposals were "obviously more political than prudent."

Sen. George (D-Ga) said he doesn't know what Eisenhower is planning to do but "he covered a lot of ground in the message just like Harry Truman used to do."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa) said Eisenhower's message "sounded like the statement of a candidate."

* * *

REP. JOHN BELL Williams (D-Miss) called it "an announcement for reelection," adding that it was "the most patently political document in years."

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader who is expected to seek his party's presidential nomination if Eisenhower doesn't run, shrugged off questions about politics in the message.

But Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, the assistant GOP leader, said he doesn't believe Eisenhower gave the "slightest hint of whether he intends to run."

Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) found Eisenhower "more concerned with the responsibilities of the presidency than with the rhetoric of the candidate."

Colorado Boy, 4 'Dies' Second Time

DENVER (AP) — Little Neal Demers, electrocuted and then restored to life by a quick-thinking doctor New Year's Eve, is dead.

Neal fell at his home, toppling a lighted Christmas tree onto the tracks of his new electric train. The wires short-circuited, and Neal was electrocuted.

Dr. Robert Squires first pronounced Neal dead, then opened the boy's chest with a razor blade and massaged the heart. It fluttered into life, but stopped yesterday.

Poison Smog Continues To Plague London

Dense Pall Said Worse Than In 1952 When 4,000 Lives Claimed

LONDON (AP) — Slight northeast winds broke up Britain's worst smog in three years today, but the weatherman said relief was only temporary.

The forecast was for another choking night of the smoke-laden pall that has gripped southern England for the last 48 hours, halting all air service to and from London.

Into the swirling mists, millions of chimneys funneled soot, sulphur dioxide and other coal-fire byproducts. Scientific teams analyzing the dense black vapor during the night said it was even more poisonous than the great smog of 1952 which claimed 4,000 lives.

A spokesman for the British Oxygen Co. said more emergency calls for oxygen were received yesterday than ever before.

"The number of patients with chest diseases has greatly increased in the hospitals since the smog descended and numerous hospitals have asked for oxygen tanks to meet the emergency," he explained.

* * *

POLICE SAID the last 24 hours had been the hospitals' busiets of the winter, and scores of people collapsed on the streets.

There were no official reports yet of smog fatalities. One hospital said it would take weeks to determine what deaths were attributed to the fog.

Regular radio warnings went out to Britons who normally drive to work to leave their cars at home and help minimize the danger of accidents.

Heavy police patrols were out —acting as guides as much as protectors of law and order. One woman was clubbed in an outlying London district by three men who grabbed her handbag, containing $14, and disappeared.

The great darkness was attributed officially to a layer of still, warm air overlying a ground layer of cold, moist air.

For the third straight day, the giant London Air Terminal was deserted with international traffic at a standstill.

NEW DELHI (AP) — The United States today presented India a 51,000-item technical library on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Ike, Benson Holding Parley On New Plan To Aid Farmer

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson confer here today on a fresh appeal to Congress for "immediate and drastic attention" to the slumping farm income.

Before them was a draft of a special farm message Eisenhower will send to Congress Monday. In his State of the Union message yesterday, the convalescing President dealt with the crop price decline in general terms.

"Our national farm policy, so vital to the welfare of farm people and all of us, must not become a field for political warfare," he said. "Too much is at stake."

But Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader in the Senate, said the administration had become "frantic about the farm situation" and was rushing out a program to appeal to the voters, particularly those in the Midwest, in this year's elections.

Chairman Ellender (D-La) and Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, awaiting Monday's special farm message, promised to attack the problem of falling farm prices on a "nonpartisan basis."

But this peace move seemed likely to be restricted and shortlived in view of the attitude of Johnson and other Democrats.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) demanded that Eisenhower "keep the promises" he made to agriculture in 1952.

Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) said that any program Benson submits will wear "the gaudy garb of partisan politics."

In a discussion of his State of the Union message, Eisenhower called for "immediate and drastic attention" to the farm problem, which he termed serious.

In the message itself, he said:

"Our farm people are not sharing as they should in the general prosperity. They alone of all major groups have seen their incomes decline rather than rise."

He said the government's objective must be "to help bring production into balance with existing and new markets, at prices that yield farmers a return for their work in line with what other Americans get."

He said he also would urge approval of measures designed to strengthen individual commodity programs, reduce crop carry-overs, and stop further accumulation of surpluses. He said he will call, too, for "substantial" new funds for an expanded drive on the research front, to develop new markets, new crops and new uses.

Chinese Student Leaves Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — After six years in a Missouri mental hospital, Liu Yung-ming is being returned to his home in Red China. His government had charged that the 36-year-old Chinese student was being held against his will.

The immigration service said last night it has received approval from hospital authorities and from British officials in Hong Kong to deport the student. The deportation order has been pending since 1951, on the ground Liu no longer was studying at the University of Missouri.

He was committed to the hospital in 1949 after his case was diagnosed as schizophrenia.

Women To Benefit Under Odd Will

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two women will receive $300 a month for life if they can do without three things: alcohol, tobacco and men.

This strange condition was part of a will left by Percy T. Martin, a wealthy real estate developer. He died in 1952 leaving an estate of $448,946.

Mrs. Helen Dill, 53, a widow now living in Owensville, Ind., and Miss Frances Miller, 51, friends of Martin, were each left $300 a month if they do not indulge in alcohol, tobacco or become engaged or married.

The will was approved in court here yesterday.

Police Hoping For Public's Help In Seeking Dog Poisoner Here

Circleville police today intensified their efforts to uncover a Southend dog poisoner, hopeful that new information will be brought forth to lead them to the person accused of killing a valuable hunting dog while the animal was chained in its owner's back yard.

Sgt. George Green said the dog, "Gus", a brown and white beagle, was owned by Melvin Thompson of Renick Ave., a short street located east of the General Electric Co. plant. In addition to being a valuable hunting dog, the animal was a special pet of Thompson's niece and nephews. The four children are aged 11 to 16.

Grief of the children over loss of the dog led to belated disclosure of the case, one of several such incidents listed in the city during the past few years.

Green investigated the case Thursday when police were notified for the first time. He was told the animal was poisoned either late Tuesday evening, Dec. 27, or early the following morning.

Since the pet was kept chained in the owner's yard, it was assumed the poison in some form was tossed onto the premises.

Neighbors in the locality were urged to come forward with any recollections they may have that would provide a clue to the poisoner's identity. Police Chief Elmer Merriman has repeatedly warned that severe penalties await anyone found guilty of poisoning a pet dog.

However, police have emphasized that it is essential to obtain evidence for prosecution.

Thompson told police that another valuable hunting dog he owned was poisoned some time ago in a manner similar to the latest incident.

"The dog was always kept penned up," Mrs. Thompson said. "The poison — whatever it was — had to be tossed into the yard. We want the poisoner to know just what he or she has done, and how sad it has made the children."

Huffman To Be Ohio Dems' Second Choice Favorite Son

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today former U. S. Sen. James W. Huffman, Columbus attorney, has consented to be the second choice as Ohio's "favorite son" candidate for President at the Democratic National Convention this summer.

Lausche said he conferred last night with party leaders over selection of delegates and alternates to the convention in Chicago next August. The delegates are pledged to Lausche as the first choice for "favorite son."

The governor said he preferred two delegates and two alternates from each of Ohio's 23 congressional districts and not more than 24 delegates and alternates at large. He declared:

"No final selection was made of the persons to whom consent will be given to be candidates for the offices of delegates to the national convention."

He said district delegates each would have one full vote and delegates at large one-half vote each. Ohio will have 58 votes at the convention.

On that basis, the Ohio delegation would comprise 46 district delegates and 24 elected statewide in the May 8 primary.

* * *

THE GOVERNOR, who seeks the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in the May primary, said he would place his petitions in circulation today.

The task of circulating petitions for convention delegate candidates also was discussed at the meeting, Lausche said.

Attending the session with Lausche were James W. Shocknessy, vice chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee; State Chairman Eugene Hanhart of Dover; Harry R. Meredith of Lima, chairman of the state central committee; State Commerce Director Harper Annat; John E. Elder, leader of the Lausche faction in Cleveland; Zoltan Gombos of Cleveland, state racing commission chairman, and staff secretaries Ray White of Millersburg and Dave Chatfield of Cincinnati.

Home, World Picture Said Not Very 'Rosy'

Senate Leader Paces Attack After Hearing President's Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political skirmishing was on in Congress today with Democrats challenging President Eisenhower on foreign, tax and other major election-year issues.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas signaled the attack, saying the state of the Union and the world is not nearly so rosy as Eisenhower pictured it in his annual message to Congress yesterday.

Johnson said the "political overtones" of the President's message "are the subject of deep disappointment and great regret" to those who have tried to cooperate with the administration in the national interest.

"Most Americans know that the domestic situation is not as rosy as it is pictured and that the international situation is one of deep concern," he declared.

Commenting on Eisenhower's call for payments on the national debt before tax cuts, Johnson said the Republicans had been bragging for months about reducing taxes $7½ billion in a period of deficit spending.

* * *

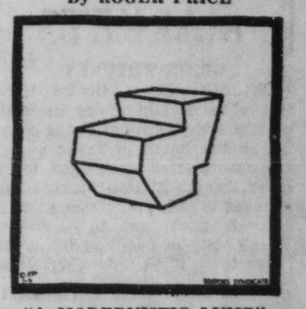

CHAIRMAN BYRD (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee backed Eisenhower's statement that in a time of prosperity the nation could not afford to go further in debt to cut taxes.

Sen. George (D-Ga), a Finance Committee member, reiterated his determination to push for a tax reduction for those in the low and

"A MODERNISTIC LUMP"

Old-fashioned, conservative readers may consider this Lump too radical and say "Lumps should be lumpy!" Not so. Functionality is the keynote of 20th Century design and think how functional Modernistic Lumps like this one would be. They could be arranged in attractive displays, used as end tables or introduced to near-sighted relatives as distinguished guests. With lumps like this your friends would comment on your ingenuity instead of passing remarks such as "Isn't Mary a sloppy Lumpkeeper?" or "Did you see how Mary's Living Room Lumps clash with her Dining Room Lumps?" or 'I wonder why Mary doesn't get slip covers for her Lumps?" This whole idea is so revoluntary I'm seriously thinking of changing my name to Frank Lloyd Price.

POLICE SAID the last 24 hours had been the hospitals' busiets of the winter, and scores of people collapsed on the streets.

There were no official reports yet of smog fatalities. One hospital said it would take weeks to determine what deaths were attributed to the fog.

Regular radio warnings went out to Britons who normally drive to work to leave their cars at home and help minimize the danger of accidents.

Heavy police patrols were out —acting as guides as much as protectors of law and order. One woman was clubbed in an outlying London district by three men who grabbed her handbag, containing $14, and disappeared.

The great darkness was attributed officially to a layer of still, warm air overlying a ground layer of cold, moist air.

For the third straight day, the giant London Air Terminal was deserted with international traffic at a standstill.

U. S. Gives India A-Energy Library

NEW DELHI (AP) — The United States today presented India a 51,000-item technical library on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The library, compiled by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission as part of President Eisenhower's atoms-for - peace program, will save India time in carrying out atomic experiments already performed elsewhere.

U. S. Income Zooms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department said today that in November personal income rose to a record annual rate of $311½ billion, or about $2 billion higher than in October.

Ike, Benson Holding Parley On New Plan To Aid Farmer

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson confer here today on a fresh appeal to Congress for "immediate and drastic attention" to the slumping farm income.

Before them was a draft of a special farm message Eisenhower will send to Congress Monday. In his State of the Union message yesterday, the convalescing President dealt with the crop price decline in general terms.

"Our national farm policy, so vital to the welfare of farm people and all of us, must not become a field for political warfare," he said. "Too much is at stake."

But Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader in the Senate, said the administration had become "frantic about the farm situation" and was rushing out a program to appeal to the voters, particularly those in the Midwest, in this year's elections.

Chairman Ellender (D-La) and Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, awaiting Monday's special farm message, promised to attack the problem of falling farm prices on a "nonpartisan basis."

But this peace move seemed likely to be restricted and shortlived in view of the attitude of Johnson and other Democrats.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) demanded that Eisenhower "keep the promises" he made to agriculture in 1952.

Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) said that any program Benson submits will wear "the gaudy garb of partisan politics."

In a discussion of his State of the Union message, Eisenhower called for "immediate and drastic attention" to the farm problem, which he termed serious.

In the message itself, he said:

"Our farm people are not sharing as they should in the general prosperity. They alone of all major groups have seen their incomes decline rather than rise."

He said the government's objective must be "to help bring production into balance with existing and new markets, at prices that yield farmers a return for their work in line with what other Americans get."

He said he also would urge approval of measures designed to strengthen individual commodity programs, reduce crop carry-overs, and stop further accumulation of surpluses. He said he will call, too, for "substantial" new funds for an expanded drive on the research front, to develop new markets, new crops and new uses.

Chinese Student Leaves Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — After six years in a Missouri mental hospital, Liu Yung-ming is being returned to his home in Red China. His government had charged that the 36-year-old Chinese student was being held against his will.

The immigration service said last night it has received approval from hospital authorities and from British officials in Hong Kong to deport the student. The deportation order has been pending since 1951, on the ground Liu no longer was studying at the University of Missouri.

He was committed to the hospital in 1949 after his case was diagnosed as schizophrenia.

Women To Benefit Under Odd Will

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two women will receive $300 a month for life if they can do without three things: alcohol, tobacco and men.

This strange condition was part of a will left by Percy T. Martin, a wealthy real estate developer. He died in 1952 leaving an estate of $448,946.

Mrs. Helen Dill, 53, a widow now living in Owensville, Ind., and Miss Frances Miller, 51, friends of Martin, were each left $300 a month if they do not indulge in alcohol, tobacco or become engaged or married.

The will was approved in court here yesterday.

Circleville police today intensified their efforts to uncover a Southend dog poisoner, hopeful that new information will be brought forth to lead them to the person accused of killing a valuable hunting dog while the animal was chained in its owner's back yard.

Sgt. George Green said the dog, "Gus", a brown and white beagle, was owned by Melvin Thompson of Renick Ave., a short street located east of the General Electric Co. plant. In addition to being a valuable hunting dog, the animal was a special pet of Thompson's niece and nephews. The four children are aged 11 to 16.

Grief of the children over loss of the dog led to belated disclosure of the case, one of several such incidents listed in the city during the past few years.

Green investigated the case Thursday when police were notified for the first time. He was told the animal was poisoned either late Tuesday evening, Dec. 27, or early the following morning.

Since the pet was kept chained in the owner's yard, it was assumed the poison in some form was tossed onto the premises.

Neighbors in the locality were urged to come forward with any recollections they may have that would provide a clue to the poisoner's identity. Police Chief Elmer Merriman has repeatedly warned that severe penalties await anyone found guilty of poisoning a pet dog.

However, police have emphasized that it is essential to obtain evidence for prosecution.

Thompson told police that another valuable hunting dog he owned was poisoned some time ago in a manner similar to the latest incident.

"The dog was always kept penned up," Mrs. Thompson said. "The poison — whatever it was — had to be tossed into the yard. We want the poisoner to know just what he or she has done, and how sad it has made the children."

Huffman To Be Ohio Dems' Second Choice Favorite Son

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today former U. S. Sen. James W. Huffman, Columbus attorney, has consented to be the second choice as Ohio's "favorite son" candidate for President at the Democratic National Convention this summer.

Lausche said he conferred last night with party leaders over selection of delegates and alternates to the convention in Chicago next August. The delegates are pledged to Lausche as the first choice for "favorite son."

The governor said he preferred two delegates and two alternates from each of Ohio's 23 congressional districts and not more than 24 delegates and alternates at large. He declared:

"No final selection was made of the persons to whom consent will be given to be candidates for the offices of delegates to the national convention."

He said district delegates each would have one full vote and delegates at large one-half vote each. Ohio will have 58 votes at the convention.

On that basis, the Ohio delegation would comprise 46 district delegates and 24 elected statewide in the May 8 primary.

* * *

THE GOVERNOR, who seeks the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in the May primary, said he would place his petitions in circulation today.

The task of circulating petitions for convention delegate candidates also was discussed at the meeting, Lausche said.

Attending the session with Lausche were James W. Shocknessy, vice chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee; State Chairman Eugene Hanhart of Dover; Harry R. Meredith of Lima, chairman of the state central committee; State Commerce Director Harper Annat; John E. Elder, leader of the Lausche faction in Cleveland; Zoltan Gombos of Cleveland, state racing commission chairman, and staff secretaries Ray White of Millersburg and Dave Chatfield of Cincinnati.

Senate Leader Paces Attack After Hearing President's Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political skirmishing was on in Congress today with Democrats challenging President Eisenhower on foreign, tax and other major election-year issues.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas signaled the attack, saying the state of the Union and the world is not nearly so rosy as Eisenhower pictured it in his annual message to Congress yesterday.

Johnson said the "political overtones" of the President's message "are the subject of deep disappointment and great regret" to those who have tried to cooperate with the administration in the national interest.

"Most Americans know that the domestic situation is not as rosy as it is pictured and that the international situation is one of deep concern," he declared.

Commenting on Eisenhower's call for payments on the national debt before tax cuts, Johnson said the Republicans had been bragging for months about reducing taxes $7½ billion in a period of deficit spending.

* * *

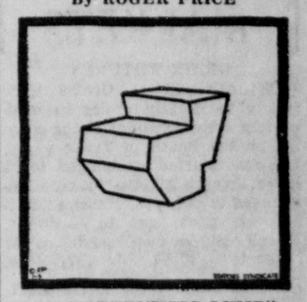

CHAIRMAN BYRD (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee backed Eisenhower's statement that in a time of prosperity the nation could not afford to go further in debt to cut taxes.

Sen. George (D-Ga), a Finance Committee member, reiterated his determination to push for a tax reduction for those in the low and

"A MODERNISTIC LUMP"

Old-fashioned, conservative readers may consider this Lump too radical and say "Lumps should be lumpy!" Not so. Functionality is the keynote of 20th Century design and think how functional Modernistic Lumps like this one would be. They could be arranged in attractive displays, used as end tables or introduced to near-sighted relatives as distinguished guests. With lumps like this your friends would comment on your ingenuity instead of passing remarks such as "Isn't Mary a sloppy Lumpkeeper?" or "Did you see how Mary's Living Room Lumps clash with her Dining Room Lumps?" or 'I wonder why Mary doesn't get slip covers for her Lumps?" This whole idea is so revoluntary I'm seriously thinking of changing my name to Frank Lloyd Price.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said he wants to see the President's Jan. 16 budget message before discussing tax cuts. What Eisenhower said yesterday offered "nothing new," he said.

Regardless of what finally is done on individual tax relief, quick congressional approval is regarded as likely for Eisenhower's request for another year's extension of existing excise and corporation income for another year's extension of existing excise and corporation income tax rates, now due to drop April 1 to pre-Korean War levels.

Several Democrats concerned with the nation's defenses cautioned against too much optimism over Eisenhower's view that "the outlook is bright with promise."

Such misgivings were not shared by Republicans. Many of them concurred with the statement of House Minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts that Eisenhower's report demonstrated a "clear understanding of the festering danger of Communist intrigue."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he is "not quite as optimistic as he (Eisenhower) is as to the adequacy of our defenses."

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) stood by his comment of Tuesday that: "I am not happy about our foreign relations as things stand. The general situation in the world is not good."

* * *

CHAIRMAN CANNON (D - Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee, which scans all defense spending, said:

"The United States is in the greatest danger it has ever been in. I thought the President should have said there could be no tax cut until we have an adequate national defense. We do not have it now. We have the most alarming reports of military progress Russia is making. There is only one country Russia has in view—the United States."

"I wish I could enjoy the optimism of the President in relation to world conditions," said House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts. "It is my opinion that world conditions do not justify such optimism."

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) asserted that "only the blindly partisan will challenge the President's conclusions that America's position in world leadership and her economic health were never stronger."

Wool Producers File For Payments

Any producer who sold wool or lambs for slaughter after April 1, 1955 may apply for the wool incentive payment up to next April 1, according to Wayne Luckhart, chairman of the local ASC committee.

Luckhart pointed out that any producer may carry over wool or lambs from the 1955 marketing year ending next March 31 and sell the wool or lambs in the next marketing year beginning April 1, 1956 and ending March 31, 1957.

Jan. 31 Deadline For Crop Loans

Jan. 31 is the final date for approving loans and purchase agreements for eligible 1955 crops of wheat, barley, oats, rye and soybeans, according to the ASC office here.

Applications must be in before this date to allow time to complete the necessary inspections and other details, the office suggests. To play safe, applications should be filed on or before Jan. 15.

Corn loans and purchase agreements must be completed on or before next April 30.

County Farmers Told Products To Be Taxed In Area Stored

Pickaway County farmers who have agricultural products under loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation will be taxed on those products in the district where stored.

This announcement came today from Wayne E. Luckhart, chairman of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. He said that the location where these products are stored can be determined by checking the warehouse receipt or note.

Products which can be taxed include those which are stored either on the land where they are produced, in a warehouse on which a CCC loan has been issued, or those which are under a "purchase agreement plan" with the CCC, Luckhart explained.

These come under three types of plans, Luckhart pointed out—"farm stored loans", "warehouse stored loans" and the third type mentioned above. In each instance, Luckhart said, the government exerts no control over the products, determining that the farmer or warehouseman has custody of such products.

* * *

AT NO TIME does the government take control of the products until the farmer has decided to release them by not redeeming his note, according to Luckhart. He added that the government has no authority to ship these products until the time when the farmer decides not to redeem his note. This occurs after the tax listing date, he said.

Section 5701.08 of the Ohio Revised Code requires that agricultural products must be subject to the control of the U. S. government and subject to shipment on order of the government before qualifying for exemption, Luckhart pointed out.

Westinghouse Refuses Plan By Mediator

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. refused late yesterday to accept a federal mediator's proposal for ending a nationwide strike. It suggested instead a plan pegged to a secret ballot by striking employes on a contract offer already rejected by union chiefs.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said in Washington the secret ballot by 44,000 IUE members in 30 plants would be acceptable—if there were a choice between the company offer and union demands.

Federal mediator Joseph F. Finnegan said he wanted Westinghouse to clarify the proposal by putting in writing the specific questions the IUE members would be asked to vote on.

Finnegan had proposed Wednesday that a three-man fact-finding board be appointed to try to agree on a settlement. The IUE accepted the proposal. Westinghouse rejected it yesterday.

Deputies and police had been alerted for another possible mass demonstration such as the one which resulted in violence at the company plant Tuesday.

The alert was given by Sheriff Ralph Paul last night, who said he had received numerous reports that a second demonstration of the IUE would be held today. But the IUE said it knew of no such plans.

Strict Enforcements Of Sanitary Laws Hampered In City

A spokesman for the city health department said today two factors hamper strict enforcement of sanitary regulations:

1. If a dwelling were to be condemned, the city would have to reimburse the owner in some way.
2. There is no sanitary code on which to base enforcement.

The spokesman said that the state only recommends certain standards; they cannot enforce them here. He added that the state can only be called in to act in an advisory capacity.

John Poston Utility Chief, Dies At 67

COLUMBUS (AP)—John B. Poston, 67, president of Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., died today at Mt. Carmel Hospital. He had been ill several weeks.

Poston, a native of Nelsonville, started his utility career in 1914 as an employe of the Hocking Power Co., founded by his father, the late Elias McClellan Poston. There, he checked materials as they arrived for construction of the Floodwood generator station in Athens County.

In 1925, he was named general manager of Southern Ohio Electric Co., a consolidation of the Hocking Power Co., Southern Ohio Electric Co., Athens Electric Co. and the Mutual Electric Co. of Middleport.

Southern Ohio Electric Co. in 1929 acquired the Ohio Utilities Co. operating in Delaware, Circleville, Chillicothe, Gallipolis and Hillsboro, and Poston became vice president and general manager.

He took on additional duties in 1931 as director and member of the executive committee of the Columbus Railway Power and Light Co. In 1932, he was named to the newly-created post of executive president. He was elected president of the Southern Ohio Electric Co. in 1934.

The two firms consolidated in 1937 to form the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., and Poston continued as executive vice president until 1942 when he became president. He was elected chairman of the board in 1943.

He made his home in Columbus with his wife, the former Grace Coe, whom he married in 1931.

Federal Jury Hangs In Ohio GI's Case

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A federal court jury was discharged last night after it failed to reach an agreement in the trial of an Ohio Marine charged with the Nov. 1 theft of $11,000 from a Camp Pendleton post exchange.

The jury began deliberating at 3 p. m. and reported to Judge Jacob Weinberger at 10:50 p. m. that it could not reach an agreement in the trial of Pvt. David Nathan Wade, 20 of Miamisburg, Ohio.

Weinberger said he would set a new trial date today.

The government accused Wade of giving the combination of the exchange's safe to two other Marines, who also were indicted.

Trio Of Motorists Get Traffic Fines

Three motorists were fined by city court in cases reported today.

Carl D. Willis, 28, of Kingsport, Tenn.; $20 and costs for speeding at 70; arrested by State Patrolman Gene Miller.

Kenneth E. Phillips, 27, of Stoutsville; $15 and costs for failure to have assured clear distance; arrested by State Patrolman Jim Cooper.

Driver 'Fair' After Crash On Route 62

A Columbus motorist was in "fair" condition in St. Anthony's Hospital there following a car-truck accident early this morning on Route 62. The crash took place just south of the Pickaway-Franklin County line, the scene of several mishaps lately.

Kennithe Miller, 27, reportedly attempted to pass a truck on the right but struck it a glancing blow. The truck had slowed down due to a construction job on the road, deputies were told.

Miller suffered chest and lung injuries, lacerations to his left eye lid and chin, plus multiple abrasions and contusions. Deputies said he will be cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance as soon as he is released from the hospital.

Franklin County deputies were summoned to the accident site first, but Pickaway County Deputy Bob Hoover was called when it was determined the accident took place in this county.

Howard E. Evans, 38, of Maysville, Ky., the truck driver, was not injured. Both vehicles were traveling north. Miller's car was demolished.

Worst Affliction: Lack Of Thinking

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Modern society's greatest affliction, says a University of Michigan psychologist, is that the present generation doesn't do enough thinking.

Dr. Wilma Donahue told 5,000 members of the Los Angeles County Medical Assn. that one of the best ways to keep young is to continue to use the brain, "for without using it constantly, brain cells atrophy just as muscle cells do when there is lack of exercise."

She said yesterday that she is convinced chldren today do less thinking than their grandparents.

"Everything is done for us," she said. "We are told what to think, seldom meet new situations."

Negro Pupils In Hillsboro Again Shunned By School

HILLSBORO (AP)—Negro children again were turned away from Webster school here today.

Harold Henry, principal, told them there was no change in the situation despite an appellate court ruling in Cincinnati yesterday ordering the immediate end of segregation in Hillsboro.

He reiterated that the children were not assigned to the school and not eligible for admittance.

Between 15 and 20 Negro children appeared at the school, as they have daily.

As usual, when they were turned back they returned to their homes.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, sixth circuit, yesterday directed U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel to act immediately to provide for admission to the Hillsboro schools the children who were turned back again today.

Hs action would be through the issuance of a permanent injunction asked by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and others who have charged that segregation is being practiced in Hillsboro.

* * *

JUDGE DRUFFEL called a meeting for next Wednesday with the Hillsboro school board and city solicitor to discuss the situation. He said that if the board accepts the order of the appeals court, that will end the matter.

If the board and its attorney decide against it, Judge Druffel declared, he will defy the directive. He said it would take an order of the U. S. Supreme Court to make him comply.

The judge, in denying the permanent injunction last year, held that there was no intended segregation in Hillsboro. He said a building program was underway and that when it was completed, Negro children would be admitted along with others now enrolled at the grade schools.

2 Filling Stations Sites Of Breakins

Deputy Sheriff Walter Richards reported that the loot consisted of: $9 in new half dollars, $7 in new quarters, $5 in dimes, one $10 bill, two $5 bills and a $1 bill.

Another breakin was reported at Mavis' Filling Station on the eastern edge of Circleville. The extent of loss was not reported.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said he wants to see the President's Jan. 16 budget message before discussing tax cuts. What Eisenhower said yesterday offered "nothing new," he said.

Regardless of what finally is done on individual tax relief, quick congressional approval is regarded as likely for Eisenhower's request for another year's extension of existing excise and corporation income for another year's extension of existing excise and corporation income tax rates, now due to drop April 1 to pre-Korean War levels.

Several Democrats concerned with the nation's defenses cautioned against too much optimism over Eisenhower's view that "the outlook is bright with promise."

Such misgivings were not shared by Republicans. Many of them concurred with the statement of House Minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts that Eisenhower's report demonstrated a "clear understanding of the festering danger of Communist intrigue."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he is "not quite as optimistic as he (Eisenhower) is as to the adequacy of our defenses."

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) stood by his comment of Tuesday that: "I am not happy about our foreign relations as things stand. The general situation in the world is not good."

* * *

CHAIRMAN CANNON (D - Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee, which scans all defense spending, said:

"The United States is in the greatest danger it has ever been in. I thought the President should have said there could be no tax cut until we have an adequate national defense. We do not have it now. We have the most alarming reports of military progress Russia is making. There is only one country Russia has in view—the United States."

"I wish I could enjoy the optimism of the President in relation to world conditions," said House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts. "It is my opinion that world conditions do not justify such optimism."

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) asserted that "only the blindly partisan will challenge the President's conclusions that America's position in world leadership and her economic health were never stronger."

Wool Producers File For Payments

Any producer who sold wool or lambs for slaughter after April 1, 1955 may apply for the wool incentive payment up to next April 1, according to Wayne Luckhart, chairman of the local ASC committee.

Luckhart pointed out that any producer may carry over wool or lambs from the 1955 marketing year ending next March 31 and sell the wool or lambs in the next marketing year beginning April 1, 1956 and ending March 31, 1957.

Report Highlights Local Red Cross Monthly Meeting

A treasurer's report highlighted the board of directors regular monthly meeting of the Pickaway County chapter of the American Red Cross earlier this week.

Miss Gretchen Moeller reported the following expenses: home service, $142.90; general administration, $132.35; blood program (two months share of the county towards the Columbus Blood Center), $779.15; and first aid, $97.25.

Mrs. Charles Mowery Jr., executive secretary, reported the following cases: 17 emergency leaves and extension of leaves; five health and welfare reports; three reports for the military; and 22 counseling problems.

Charles Gray gave a report on the United Community Fund. He also reported on the work done by the Red Cross during last year's floods in the East. He noted that 14,387 families were given aid at a costs of more than $15 million.

Jan. 31 Deadline For Crop Loans

Jan. 31 is the final date for approving loans and purchase agreements for eligible 1955 crops of wheat, barley, oats, rye and soybeans, according to the ASC office here.

Applications must be in before this date to allow time to complete the necessary inspections and other details, the office suggests. To play safe, applications should be filed on or before Jan. 15.

Corn loans and purchase agreements must be completed on or before next April 30.

County Farmers Told Products To Be Taxed In Area Stored

Pickaway County farmers who have agricultural products under loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation will be taxed on those products in the district where stored.

This announcement came today from Wayne E. Luckhart, chairman of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. He said that the location where these products are stored can be determined by checking the warehouse receipt or note.

Products which can be taxed include those which are stored either on the land where they are produced, in a warehouse on which a CCC loan has been issued, or those which are under a "purchase agreement plan" with the CCC, Luckhart explained.

These come under three types of plans, Luckhart pointed out—"farm stored loans", "warehouse stored loans" and the third type mentioned above. In each instance, Luckhart said, the government exerts no control over the products, determining that the farmer or warehouseman has custody of such products.

* * *

AT NO TIME does the government take control of the products until the farmer has decided to release them by not redeeming his note, according to Luckhart. He added that the government has no authority to ship these products until the time when the farmer decides not to redeem his note. This occurs after the tax listing date, he said.

Section 5701.08 of the Ohio Revised Code requires that agricultural products must be subject to the control of the U. S. government and subject to shipment on order of the government before qualifying for exemption, Luckhart pointed out.

Westinghouse Refuses Plan By Mediator

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. refused late yesterday to accept a federal mediator's proposal for ending a nationwide strike. It suggested instead a plan pegged to a secret ballot by striking employes on a contract offer already rejected by union chiefs.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said in Washington the secret ballot by 44,000 IUE members in 30 plants would be acceptable—if there were a choice between the company offer and union demands.

Federal mediator Joseph F. Finnegan said he wanted Westinghouse to clarify the proposal by putting in writing the specific questions the IUE members would be asked to vote on.

Finnegan had proposed Wednesday that a three-man fact-finding board be appointed to try to agree on a settlement. The IUE accepted the proposal. Westinghouse rejected it yesterday.

Deputies and police had been alerted for another possible mass demonstration such as the one which resulted in violence at the company plant Tuesday.

The alert was given by Sheriff Ralph Paul last night, who said he had received numerous reports that a second demonstration of the IUE would be held today. But the IUE said it knew of no such plans.

Strict Enforcements Of Sanitary Laws Hampered In City

A spokesman for the city health department said today two factors hamper strict enforcement of sanitary regulations:

1. If a dwelling were to be condemned, the city would have to reimburse the owner in some way.
2. There is no sanitary code on which to base enforcement.

The spokesman said that the state only recommends certain standards; they cannot enforce them here. He added that the state can only be called in to act in an advisory capacity.

John Poston Utility Chief, Dies At 67

COLUMBUS (AP)—John B. Poston, 67, president of Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., died today at Mt. Carmel Hospital. He had been ill several weeks.

Poston, a native of Nelsonville, started his utility career in 1914 as an employe of the Hocking Power Co., founded by his father, the late Elias McClellan Poston. There, he checked materials as they arrived for construction of the Floodwood generator station in Athens County.

In 1925, he was named general manager of Southern Ohio Electric Co., a consolidation of the Hocking Power Co., Southern Ohio Electric Co., Athens Electric Co. and the Mutual Electric Co. of Middleport.

Southern Ohio Electric Co. in 1929 acquired the Ohio Utilities Co. operating in Delaware, Circleville, Chillicothe, Gallipolis and Hillsboro, and Poston became vice president and general manager.

He took on additional duties in 1931 as director and member of the executive committee of the Columbus Railway Power and Light Co. In 1932, he was named to the newly-created post of executive president. He was elected president of the Southern Ohio Electric Co. in 1934.

The two firms consolidated in 1937 to form the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., and Poston continued as executive vice president until 1942 when he became president. He was elected chairman of the board in 1943.

He made his home in Columbus with his wife, the former Grace Coe, whom he married in 1931.

Federal Jury Hangs In Ohio GI's Case

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A federal court jury was discharged last night after it failed to reach an agreement in the trial of an Ohio Marine charged with the Nov. 1 theft of $11,000 from a Camp Pendleton post exchange.

The jury began deliberating at 3 p. m. and reported to Judge Jacob Weinberger at 10:50 p. m. that it could not reach an agreement in the trial of Pvt. David Nathan Wade, 20 of Miamisburg, Ohio.

Weinberger said he would set a new trial date today.

The government accused Wade of giving the combination of the exchange's safe to two other Marines, who also were indicted.

Trio Of Motorists Get Traffic Fines

Three motorists were fined by city court in cases reported today.

Carl D. Willis, 28, of Kingsport, Tenn.; $20 and costs for speeding at 70; arrested by State Patrolman Gene Miller.

Kenneth E. Phillips, 27, of Stoutsville; $15 and costs for failure to have assured clear distance; arrested by State Patrolman Jim Cooper.

Driver 'Fair' After Crash On Route 62

A Columbus motorist was in "fair" condition in St. Anthony's Hospital there following a car-truck accident early this morning on Route 62. The crash took place just south of the Pickaway-Franklin County line, the scene of several mishaps lately.

Kennithe Miller, 27, reportedly attempted to pass a truck on the right but struck it a glancing blow. The truck had slowed down due to a construction job on the road, deputies were told.

Miller suffered chest and lung injuries, lacerations to his left eye lid and chin, plus multiple abrasions and contusions. Deputies said he will be cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance as soon as he is released from the hospital.

Franklin County deputies were summoned to the accident site first, but Pickaway County Deputy Bob Hoover was called when it was determined the accident took place in this county.

Howard E. Evans, 38, of Maysville, Ky., the truck driver, was not injured. Both vehicles were traveling north. Miller's car was demolished.

Worst Affliction: Lack Of Thinking

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Modern society's greatest affliction, says a University of Michigan psychologist, is that the present generation doesn't do enough thinking.

Dr. Wilma Donahue told 5,000 members of the Los Angeles County Medical Assn. that one of the best ways to keep young is to continue to use the brain, "for without using it constantly, brain cells atrophy just as muscle cells do when there is lack of exercise."

She said yesterday that she is convinced chldren today do less thinking than their grandparents.

"Everything is done for us," she said. "We are told what to think, seldom meet new situations."

Negro Pupils In Hillsboro Again Shunned By School

Harold Henry, principal, told them there was no change in the situation despite an appellate court ruling in Cincinnati yesterday ordering the immediate end of segregation in Hillsboro.

He reiterated that the children were not assigned to the school and not eligible for admittance.

Between 15 and 20 Negro children appeared at the school, as they have daily.

As usual, when they were turned back they returned to their homes.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, sixth circuit, yesterday directed U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel to act immediately to provide for admission to the Hillsboro schools the children who were turned back again today.

Hs action would be through the issuance of a permanent injunction asked by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and others who have charged that segregation is being practiced in Hillsboro.

* * *

JUDGE DRUFFEL called a meeting for next Wednesday with the Hillsboro school board and city solicitor to discuss the situation. He said that if the board accepts the order of the appeals court, that will end the matter.

If the board and its attorney decide against it, Judge Druffel declared, he will defy the directive. He said it would take an order of the U. S. Supreme Court to make him comply.

The judge, in denying the permanent injunction last year, held that there was no intended segregation in Hillsboro. He said a building program was underway and that when it was completed, Negro children would be admitted along with others now enrolled at the grade schools.

2 Filling Stations Sites Of Breakins

Deputy Sheriff Walter Richards reported that the loot consisted of: $9 in new half dollars, $7 in new quarters, $5 in dimes, one $10 bill, two $5 bills and a $1 bill.

Another breakin was reported at Mavis' Filling Station on the eastern edge of Circleville. The extent of loss was not reported.

What Is A Boy, A Girl? Here Are One Man's Ideas

What is a boy? What is a girl? Many a frustrated parent has wondered at times.

One parent, Alan Beck, editor of a magazine issued by the New England Life Insurance Co., has come up with his own ideas. They have been quoted on numerous occasions and are reprinted here because of their growing popularity.

WHAT IS A BOY

Between the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood we find a delightful creature called a boy. Boys come in assorted sizes, weights, and colors, but all boys have the same creed: To enjoy every second of every minute of every hour of every day and to protest with noise (their only weapon) when their adult males pack them off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on, swinging from, running around, or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on its face, Beauty with a cut on its fingers, Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair, and the Hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

When you are busy, a boy is an inconsiderate, bothersome, intruding jangle of noise. When you want him to make a good impression, his brain turns to jelly or else he becomes a savage, sadistic, jungle creature bent on destroying the world and himself with it.

* * *

A BOY is a composite—he has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a fire cracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books, the boy across the street, woods, water (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday mornings, and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, overcoats, adults, or bedtime.

Nobody else is so early to rise, or so late to supper. Nobody else gets so much fun out of trees, dogs, and breezes. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, 3 feet of string, an empty Bull Durham sack, 2 gum drops, 6 cents, a sling shot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine supersonic code ring with a secret compartment.

A boy is a magical creature—you can lock him out of your work shop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study, but you can't get him out of your mind. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your jailer, your boss, and your master—a freckled-face, pint-sized, cat-chasing, bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new with the two magic words—"Hi Dad!"

WHAT IS A GIRL

Little girls are the nicest things that happen to people. They are born with a little bit of angel-shine about them and though it wears thin sometimes, there is always enough left to lasso your heart—even when they are sitting in the mud, or crying temperamental tears, or parading up the street in mother's best clothes.

A little girl can be sweeter (and badder) oftener than anyone else in the world. She can jitter around, and stomp, and make funny noises that frazzle your nerves, yet just when you open your mouth, she stands there demure with that special look in her eyes. A girl is Innocence playing in the mud, Beauty standing on its head, and Motherhood dragging a doll by the foot.

Girls are available in five colors—black, white, red, yellow, or brown, yet Mother Nature always manages to select your favorite color when you place your order. They disprove the law of supply and demand—there are millions of little girls, but each is as precious as rubies.

God borrows from many creatures to make a little girl. He uses the song of a bird, the squeal of a pig, the stubbornness of a mule, the antics of a monkey, the spryness of a grasshopper, the curiosity of a cat, the speed of a gazelle, the slyness of a fox, the softness of a kitten, and to top it all off He adds the mysterious mind of a woman.

A little girl likes new shoes, party dresses, small animals, first grade, noise makers, the girl next door, dolls, make-believe, dancing lessons, ice cream, kitchens, coloring books, makeup, cans of water, going visiting, tea parties, and one boy. She doesn't care so much for visitors, boys in general, large dogs, hand-me - downs, straight chairs, vegetables, snow suits, or staying in the front yard. She is loudest when you are thinking, the prettiest when she has provoked you, the busiest at bedtime, the quietest when you want to show her off, and the most flirtatious when she absolutely must not get the best of you again.

Who else can cause you more grief, joy, irritation, satisfaction, embarrassment, and genuine delight than this combination of Eve, Salome, and Florence Nghtingale? She can muss up your home, your hair, and your dignity—spend your money, your time, and your temper—then just when your patience is ready to crack, her sunshine peeks through and you've lost again.

Yes, she is a nerve-racking nuisance, just a noisy bundle of mischief. But when your dreams tumble down and the world is a mess—when it seems you are pretty much of a fool after all—she can make you a king when she climbs on your knee and whispers, "I love you best of all!"

Jap Women Presented In Symphony

The "Obasan Gakudan" or "orchestra of the Aunts" sprang up without outside urging five years ago in this small farm village. It lies three miles from the grand shrine of Ise, symbol of Japanese culture on Nagoya Bay.

The housewives average 40 years of age. Five years ago they were undistinguished among millions of Japanese housewives, many of whom drudge in field and kitchen day and night, their chief amusement the feudalistic game of nagging their daughters-in-law.

All over Japan after the war women in cities organized clubs and choirs; in Misono they organized an orchestra.

Mrs. Tome Mori, now 49, was secretary of the Village Women's Assn. She couldn't read music. But she got 24 other housewives and asked a music teacher in the village school to train them.

Today, village kids hum Mozart, Schubert and Haydn.

Vendors To Get New State Plates

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Tax Director Stanley J. Bowers says Ohio's 217,000 active vendors will get new metal plates to help them receive proper credit for sales tax stamps they buy.

Vendors, mostly retailers, buy stamps periodically, and throughout the state there are 40,000 purchase orders every week.

In some cases the old plates are worn and impressions they make on purchase orders are almost illegible, Bowers said. This means six clerks are needed to check vendors' stamp purchase orders. When the new plates are distributed between now and July 31, only one clerk will be needed.

Ohio Bank Bandit Facing Sentence

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — A man questioned by U. S. FBI agents in connection with bank holdups at Canal Fulton and Waterville, Ohio, will be sentenced Jan. 11 for rolbbing a Hamilton drug store and illegal possession of firearms.

Reginald Harvey, 40, of Brantford, Ont., has pleaded guilty to both charges. He and another man also are charged with the armed robbery of a telegraph operator at nearby Burlington Jan. 1.

Racial Segregation Curbs Seen In School Aid Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Powell (D-NY) said that "we've got the votes" to write racial segregation restrictions into a federal school aid bill due for early House action.

Several other House members said an amendment to deny federal construction aid to areas with separate white and Negro schools could mean the end of school assistance hopes for the rest of this Congress.

Speaker Rayburn of Texas said Tuesday he expects to get before the House within a week or 10 days a bill to make federal construction funds available to states and local school districts.

Powell, a Negro, reported he intends to force the segregation issue on the House floor and that he expects his amendment to win with the help of considerable Republican support.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, assistant Republican House leader, said of the Powell amendment, "I would say at this time it would be voted in," and he added:

* * *

"IF THAT happens, the bill probably will go through the House. But I have doubts that it would pass the Senate. They would probably kill it over there."

President Eisenhower is expected to mention the administration's school aid proposals in his State of the Union message to Congress tomorrow, perhaps delaying details for a later special message.

Last year he proposed a three-year program of $200 million in grants to the states, plus authority for the government to buy $750 million in low-interest bonds from school districts unable to float school construction issues on the open market.

The House Education Committee near the close of the last session recommended a bill raising the administration's grant-in-aid proposal from $200 million to $1.6 billion over a four-year period, and included the bond purchase provision.

Some committee members said they expected Eisenhower this year to suggest a five-year program calling for $250 million a year, or a total of $1¼ billion.

What Is A Boy, A Girl? Here Are One Man's Ideas

What is a boy? What is a girl? Many a frustrated parent has wondered at times.

One parent, Alan Beck, editor of a magazine issued by the New England Life Insurance Co., has come up with his own ideas. They have been quoted on numerous occasions and are reprinted here because of their growing popularity.

WHAT IS A BOY

Between the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood we find a delightful creature called a boy. Boys come in assorted sizes, weights, and colors, but all boys have the same creed: To enjoy every second of every minute of every hour of every day and to protest with noise (their only weapon) when their adult males pack them off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on, swinging from, running around, or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on its face, Beauty with a cut on its fingers, Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair, and the Hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

When you are busy, a boy is an inconsiderate, bothersome, intruding jangle of noise. When you want him to make a good impression, his brain turns to jelly or else he becomes a savage, sadistic, jungle creature bent on destroying the world and himself with it.

* * *

A BOY is a composite—he has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a fire cracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books, the boy across the street, woods, water (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday mornings, and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, overcoats, adults, or bedtime.

Nobody else is so early to rise, or so late to supper. Nobody else gets so much fun out of trees, dogs, and breezes. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, 3 feet of string, an empty Bull Durham sack, 2 gum drops, 6 cents, a sling shot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine supersonic code ring with a secret compartment.

A boy is a magical creature—you can lock him out of your work shop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study, but you can't get him out of your mind. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your jailer, your boss, and your master—a freckled-face, pint-sized, cat-chasing, bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new with the two magic words—"Hi Dad!"

WHAT IS A GIRL

Little girls are the nicest things that happen to people. They are born with a little bit of angel-shine about them and though it wears thin sometimes, there is always enough left to lasso your heart—even when they are sitting in the mud, or crying temperamental tears, or parading up the street in mother's best clothes.

A little girl can be sweeter (and badder) oftener than anyone else in the world. She can jitter around, and stomp, and make funny noises that frazzle your nerves, yet just when you open your mouth, she stands there demure with that special look in her eyes. A girl is Innocence playing in the mud, Beauty standing on its head, and Motherhood dragging a doll by the foot.

Girls are available in five colors—black, white, red, yellow, or brown, yet Mother Nature always manages to select your favorite color when you place your order. They disprove the law of supply and demand—there are millions of little girls, but each is as precious as rubies.

God borrows from many creatures to make a little girl. He uses the song of a bird, the squeal of a pig, the stubbornness of a mule, the antics of a monkey, the spryness of a grasshopper, the curiosity of a cat, the speed of a gazelle, the slyness of a fox, the softness of a kitten, and to top it all off He adds the mysterious mind of a woman.

A little girl likes new shoes, party dresses, small animals, first grade, noise makers, the girl next door, dolls, make-believe, dancing lessons, ice cream, kitchens, coloring books, makeup, cans of water, going visiting, tea parties, and one boy. She doesn't care so much for visitors, boys in general, large dogs, hand-me - downs, straight chairs, vegetables, snow suits, or staying in the front yard. She is loudest when you are thinking, the prettiest when she has provoked you, the busiest at bedtime, the quietest when you want to show her off, and the most flirtatious when she absolutely must not get the best of you again.

Who else can cause you more grief, joy, irritation, satisfaction, embarrassment, and genuine delight than this combination of Eve, Salome, and Florence Nghtingale? She can muss up your home, your hair, and your dignity—spend your money, your time, and your temper—then just when your patience is ready to crack, her sunshine peeks through and you've lost again.

Yes, she is a nerve-racking nuisance, just a noisy bundle of mischief. But when your dreams tumble down and the world is a mess—when it seems you are pretty much of a fool after all—she can make you a king when she climbs on your knee and whispers, "I love you best of all!"

Jap Women Presented In Symphony

The "Obasan Gakudan" or "orchestra of the Aunts" sprang up without outside urging five years ago in this small farm village. It lies three miles from the grand shrine of Ise, symbol of Japanese culture on Nagoya Bay.

The housewives average 40 years of age. Five years ago they were undistinguished among millions of Japanese housewives, many of whom drudge in field and kitchen day and night, their chief amusement the feudalistic game of nagging their daughters-in-law.

All over Japan after the war women in cities organized clubs and choirs; in Misono they organized an orchestra.

Mrs. Tome Mori, now 49, was secretary of the Village Women's Assn. She couldn't read music. But she got 24 other housewives and asked a music teacher in the village school to train them.

Today, village kids hum Mozart, Schubert and Haydn.

Vendors To Get New State Plates

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Tax Director Stanley J. Bowers says Ohio's 217,000 active vendors will get new metal plates to help them receive proper credit for sales tax stamps they buy.

Vendors, mostly retailers, buy stamps periodically, and throughout the state there are 40,000 purchase orders every week.

In some cases the old plates are worn and impressions they make on purchase orders are almost illegible, Bowers said. This means six clerks are needed to check vendors' stamp purchase orders. When the new plates are distributed between now and July 31, only one clerk will be needed.

Ohio Bank Bandit Facing Sentence

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — A man questioned by U. S. FBI agents in connection with bank holdups at Canal Fulton and Waterville, Ohio, will be sentenced Jan. 11 for rolbbing a Hamilton drug store and illegal possession of firearms.

Reginald Harvey, 40, of Brantford, Ont., has pleaded guilty to both charges. He and another man also are charged with the armed robbery of a telegraph operator at nearby Burlington Jan. 1.

Racial Segregation Curbs Seen In School Aid Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Powell (D-NY) said that "we've got the votes" to write racial segregation restrictions into a federal school aid bill due for early House action.

Several other House members said an amendment to deny federal construction aid to areas with separate white and Negro schools could mean the end of school assistance hopes for the rest of this Congress.

Speaker Rayburn of Texas said Tuesday he expects to get before the House within a week or 10 days a bill to make federal construction funds available to states and local school districts.

Powell, a Negro, reported he intends to force the segregation issue on the House floor and that he expects his amendment to win with the help of considerable Republican support.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, assistant Republican House leader, said of the Powell amendment, "I would say at this time it would be voted in," and he added:

* * *

"IF THAT happens, the bill probably will go through the House. But I have doubts that it would pass the Senate. They would probably kill it over there."

President Eisenhower is expected to mention the administration's school aid proposals in his State of the Union message to Congress tomorrow, perhaps delaying details for a later special message.

Last year he proposed a three-year program of $200 million in grants to the states, plus authority for the government to buy $750 million in low-interest bonds from school districts unable to float school construction issues on the open market.

The House Education Committee near the close of the last session recommended a bill raising the administration's grant-in-aid proposal from $200 million to $1.6 billion over a four-year period, and included the bond purchase provision.

Some committee members said they expected Eisenhower this year to suggest a five-year program calling for $250 million a year, or a total of $1¼ billion.

Roundtown Retrospect

By Mac Noggle

Did you read in the Christmas issue of The Herald that the composer of the popular Christmas song "Up On the House Top" was Benjamin Hanby?

Remember singing — "Up on the house top, click! click! click!, "Down through the chimney with good Saint Nick"? Although this childrens' song was said to have been written in 1864, and has been handed down as one of America's top folk songs, yet it was not known until recently who was the composer.

Only a few years ago, among some old song books belonging to Ben Hanby, was the identity of the composer proven.

Are you wondering what this has to do with Roundtown? There was nothing in the Christmas article that said anything about Circleville, nor have the many writings about this famous composer of songs mentioned that Ben Hanby's early formative years were spent right here in Circleville. I doubt if this is too well known.

* * *

WE HAD AN experience a couple of years ago, which very forcefully made us realize how little pride in our past history exists in our town. A stranger, who identified himself as a journalist of a well known publishing house in the East, came to see us and requested assistance in tracing the history of the Hanby family in Circleville.

We didn't have too much to tell him, but he gave us a lot — but the most memorable part of this meeting was his parting shot—"Why doesn't Circleville lay any claim on the fame of Benjamin Hanby?" I don't know the answer —do you?

Could it be some lack of civic pride, like that which permits the bedraggled-looking American flag, that is now on the flag pole in front of our Court House? Could that be why it is never lowered at sundown, or why this very same flag was permitted to fly upside-down for many days?

If we cannot afford a better-looking flag and can't treat it with the respect usually accorded the Stars and Stripes — let's do without! Take a look, tomorrow, and see if you don't agree.

But to get on with the story about the Hanbys. It was during the time when Roundtown was working on its extraordinary feat of "squaring the Circle" when this family moved here. It was no small role that Circleville played in the lives of members of this family.

To better understand Benjamin Hanby, one should know something about his father, whose boyhood story touched Ben's sympathies and inspired his life-long devotion. When but nine years of age, fatherless and destitute, William Hanby, of Washington County, Pennsylvania, was bound to service for twelve years.

* * *

HIS FIRST master was a kindly Quaker, but his second was a thief who had come from England to America on a convict ship to work out his sentence. When released from prison, he started a harness shop. Ben bore abuse and virtual slavery here till, one day, ordered to swear falsely in defense of a thieving master, he revolted.

"When it came to making a false affidavit before God" he wrote, "with me it was truth or death." The beating he received for his disobedience left him injured and sick. No longer able to bear his lot, Hanby ran off—fleeing to Ohio. On March 24, 1828, he reached the farm of Samuel Miller, near Somerset, in Perry County, where he remained in hiding for two years.

In July of 1830, he took all the money he had saved and voluntarily went back to his former master and offered to pay in full for his time "taken out of service." His money was rejected and he was thrown in prison—later to be tried and given a sentence which took his last penny.

As he left the courtroom, he made a vow that he would spend the rest of his life securing for others the rights that life had denied him—the right to live his life as a free being, honestly and decently; the right of free worship and an education. He made a solemn promise to fight injustice and oppression in whatever form or place he found them.

Returning to Ohio, his adopted State, on October 17, 1830, he married Anne Miller, daughter of Samuel Miller, his former "protector." From the very beginning their home was a refuge for the oppressed. For thirty three years prior to the Civil War, William Hanby was an operator on the Underground Railroad — 14 years in Rushville, 9 years in Circleville and 10 years in Westerville.

When he was asked how a Christian Minister could justify his disobedience to the Fugitive Slave Law, he replied in the words of Peter and the other Apostles—"We ought to obey God rather than men."

* * *

CONSCIOUS of his limitations, he offered himself to the United Brethren in 1833, as an itinerant preacher and was given a circuit which covered 270 miles in the Scioto Valley, ministering to 28 charges every four weeks. His annual salary was 35 dollars—"including presents." His rise was rapid.

In 1828, when he came to Ohio, a fugitive, he could scarcely read or write—two years later, he stood before a Pennsylvania Court to receive a harsh sentence as a runaway apprentice, yet only eleven years later he was appointed Editor of the Religious Telescope, the official organ of the denomination.

Four years later, he stood before another tribunal—this time the United Brethren General Conference, being held in Circleville, to receive the highest honor within the gift of his church—his ordination as the 15th. Bishop of the denomination.

We cannot properly tell the Hanby story without dwelling on the part played by Circleville, where the family had a pleasant home among friendly and understanding towns-people. It is not only a local story, but a distinguished part of our Nation's history, which, hereabouts, has been too long untold. We'll have more of it, soon.

The raccoon is found only in North and Central America. It is common to the whole of the United States.

Little Girl Flooded With Notes, Gifts

CHICAGO (AP)—The mailman on the route embracing little Helen Wilson's home has had a busy week.

He has delivered about 3,500 cards and letters and 100 packages to the 5-year-old girl's home. The writers, from all parts of the country, were answering the request of policemen of the Jefferson Park station for persons to write to Helen, whose father Kenneth, is a policeman at the station.

The mail was sought in an effort to make a probably brief span of life brighter for Helen, who has leukemia.

Artist-Daughter Lampoons Defense Secretary Wilson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has a cartoon panel of his life, done by his daughter, Mrs. Jean Wilson Hargreaves.

The secretary has now returned from a trip which included a holiday to his Michigan home. Mrs. Hargreaves included the cartoon panel among his Christmas presents there.

On it she inscribed in minute, colored sketches, some famous and some little known happenings in the secretary's career.

Wilson in offhand news conference remarks about an unemployment situation said he liked "bird dogs rather than kennel-fed dogs" and explained he meant "one who'll get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell." He spent some time explaining he was merely praising initiative and intended no "invidious comparisons."

Mrs. Hargreaves depicts her father motoring up Pennsylvania Avenue throwing sheaves of GM stock from his car. He divested himself of security holdings before winning Senate confirmation as secretary.

Then there is a drawing of the crowned king of General Motors surrounded by heraldic devices of the GM cars.

There is a companion item showed him hitting hard upon the ice when he was skating—which brought a broken hip.

Family Of 5 Dies In Alaskan Cold

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The five frozen bodies of the Simeon Wassela family were found Thursday on the snow-swept tundra near Lake Iliamna, 250 miles southwest of Anchorage.

Only two of their nine sled dogs remained alive. Dead were the 40-year old father, his 35-year-old wife and their three children, ranging in age from less than a year to 14.

A Civil Air Patrol plane made the discovery. Searchers said the family apparently died from exposure.

NORGE GAS WATER HEATER

heats water efficiently and quickly

We drew hot water from this tank for washing clothes, bathing, dish washing and general cleaning — family style. It has the ability to recover temperature very quickly to assure plentiful hot water at all times. Right tank size depends upon number of water-using appliances and bathrooms in the home and on the size of family.

We found this heater well built for lasting service, models available for all types of gas. Cabinet has smooth lines and is easy to keep clean. Any sediment which collects can be easily flushed out through the convenient front drain.

To prolong the life of the tank magnesium anodes give additional protection to both glass lined and galvanized heaters.

FEATURES WE ESPECIALLY LIKE:

GENEROUS WARRANTY PLAN — provides protection against defects.

Roundtown Retrospect

By Mac Noggle

Did you read in the Christmas issue of The Herald that the composer of the popular Christmas song "Up On the House Top" was Benjamin Hanby?

Remember singing — "Up on the house top, click! click! click!, "Down through the chimney with good Saint Nick"? Although this childrens' song was said to have been written in 1864, and has been handed down as one of America's top folk songs, yet it was not known until recently who was the composer.

Only a few years ago, among some old song books belonging to Ben Hanby, was the identity of the composer proven.

Are you wondering what this has to do with Roundtown? There was nothing in the Christmas article that said anything about Circleville, nor have the many writings about this famous composer of songs mentioned that Ben Hanby's early formative years were spent right here in Circleville. I doubt if this is too well known.

* * *

WE HAD AN experience a couple of years ago, which very forcefully made us realize how little pride in our past history exists in our town. A stranger, who identified himself as a journalist of a well known publishing house in the East, came to see us and requested assistance in tracing the history of the Hanby family in Circleville.

We didn't have too much to tell him, but he gave us a lot — but the most memorable part of this meeting was his parting shot—"Why doesn't Circleville lay any claim on the fame of Benjamin Hanby?" I don't know the answer —do you?

Could it be some lack of civic pride, like that which permits the bedraggled-looking American flag, that is now on the flag pole in front of our Court House? Could that be why it is never lowered at sundown, or why this very same flag was permitted to fly upside-down for many days?

If we cannot afford a better-looking flag and can't treat it with the respect usually accorded the Stars and Stripes — let's do without! Take a look, tomorrow, and see if you don't agree.

But to get on with the story about the Hanbys. It was during the time when Roundtown was working on its extraordinary feat of "squaring the Circle" when this family moved here. It was no small role that Circleville played in the lives of members of this family.

To better understand Benjamin Hanby, one should know something about his father, whose boyhood story touched Ben's sympathies and inspired his life-long devotion. When but nine years of age, fatherless and destitute, William Hanby, of Washington County, Pennsylvania, was bound to service for twelve years.

* * *

HIS FIRST master was a kindly Quaker, but his second was a thief who had come from England to America on a convict ship to work out his sentence. When released from prison, he started a harness shop. Ben bore abuse and virtual slavery here till, one day, ordered to swear falsely in defense of a thieving master, he revolted.

"When it came to making a false affidavit before God" he wrote, "with me it was truth or death." The beating he received for his disobedience left him injured and sick. No longer able to bear his lot, Hanby ran off—fleeing to Ohio. On March 24, 1828, he reached the farm of Samuel Miller, near Somerset, in Perry County, where he remained in hiding for two years.

In July of 1830, he took all the money he had saved and voluntarily went back to his former master and offered to pay in full for his time "taken out of service." His money was rejected and he was thrown in prison—later to be tried and given a sentence which took his last penny.

As he left the courtroom, he made a vow that he would spend the rest of his life securing for others the rights that life had denied him—the right to live his life as a free being, honestly and decently; the right of free worship and an education. He made a solemn promise to fight injustice and oppression in whatever form or place he found them.

Returning to Ohio, his adopted State, on October 17, 1830, he married Anne Miller, daughter of Samuel Miller, his former "protector." From the very beginning their home was a refuge for the oppressed. For thirty three years prior to the Civil War, William Hanby was an operator on the Underground Railroad — 14 years in Rushville, 9 years in Circleville and 10 years in Westerville.

When he was asked how a Christian Minister could justify his disobedience to the Fugitive Slave Law, he replied in the words of Peter and the other Apostles—"We ought to obey God rather than men."

* * *

CONSCIOUS of his limitations, he offered himself to the United Brethren in 1833, as an itinerant preacher and was given a circuit which covered 270 miles in the Scioto Valley, ministering to 28 charges every four weeks. His annual salary was 35 dollars—"including presents." His rise was rapid.

In 1828, when he came to Ohio, a fugitive, he could scarcely read or write—two years later, he stood before a Pennsylvania Court to receive a harsh sentence as a runaway apprentice, yet only eleven years later he was appointed Editor of the Religious Telescope, the official organ of the denomination.

Four years later, he stood before another tribunal—this time the United Brethren General Conference, being held in Circleville, to receive the highest honor within the gift of his church—his ordination as the 15th. Bishop of the denomination.

We cannot properly tell the Hanby story without dwelling on the part played by Circleville, where the family had a pleasant home among friendly and understanding towns-people. It is not only a local story, but a distinguished part of our Nation's history, which, hereabouts, has been too long untold. We'll have more of it, soon.

The raccoon is found only in North and Central America. It is common to the whole of the United States.

Little Girl Flooded With Notes, Gifts

CHICAGO (AP)—The mailman on the route embracing little Helen Wilson's home has had a busy week.

He has delivered about 3,500 cards and letters and 100 packages to the 5-year-old girl's home. The writers, from all parts of the country, were answering the request of policemen of the Jefferson Park station for persons to write to Helen, whose father Kenneth, is a policeman at the station.

The mail was sought in an effort to make a probably brief span of life brighter for Helen, who has leukemia.

Artist-Daughter Lampoons Defense Secretary Wilson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has a cartoon panel of his life, done by his daughter, Mrs. Jean Wilson Hargreaves.

The secretary has now returned from a trip which included a holiday to his Michigan home. Mrs. Hargreaves included the cartoon panel among his Christmas presents there.

On it she inscribed in minute, colored sketches, some famous and some little known happenings in the secretary's career.

Wilson in offhand news conference remarks about an unemployment situation said he liked "bird dogs rather than kennel-fed dogs" and explained he meant "one who'll get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell." He spent some time explaining he was merely praising initiative and intended no "invidious comparisons."

Mrs. Hargreaves depicts her father motoring up Pennsylvania Avenue throwing sheaves of GM stock from his car. He divested himself of security holdings before winning Senate confirmation as secretary.

Then there is a drawing of the crowned king of General Motors surrounded by heraldic devices of the GM cars.

There is a companion item showed him hitting hard upon the ice when he was skating—which brought a broken hip.

Family Of 5 Dies In Alaskan Cold

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 29, unmarried, and I guess reasonably attractive. I have been going with John for 18 months and I believe I love him; but the catch is, he doesn't think he loves me. We have had many fights, mostly caused by me. I demand too much affection, and when he doesn't do things my way, I am hurt and we fight.

It all came to a head about a week ago. We had broken off during the summer and decided to date others; but somehow we came back together again. I was resolved to end the relationship. John sensed something was wrong. I told him we weren't getting anywhere and we ought to split up. I was amazed to hear that he wanted to tell me the same thing.

After many harsh words I left in anger and he followed to take me home. We had dinner together and I told him exactly how I felt. He said I was too sensitive; that he is afraid to talk out his feelings with me, because I get hurt. (Most of my friends say this, too). He also said he doesn't think he is capable of love, which I don't believe, as I have seen tenderness and love in him. We cried, because he wants to love me and can't. He tok me home.

Second Attempt

Next day he called and I asked what his decision was. He said it was up to me. We decided not to see each other for a month; then meet and say how we feel. He suggested we try to forget each other, but this is imposible for me. I can just barely frain from calling him now. I am afraid to meet him next month. I hope and pray he will say he loves me, but I know he won't.

What can I do? I am studying at right, to occupy my time; and I have thought of psychiatric help but this won't console me. I am alone again and I hate it.

M. P.

DEAR M. P.: In your letter, you say this isn't the only spoiled romance you've had. Also, that you are shy in a group and very awkward, but somehow you attract men, who stay interested for a year at least. Add to this your closing line, that you are alone again and hate it, and we begin to get a picture of what ails you.

You are an infantile character, extremely dependent and anxiously, utterly self-engrossed. Your emotional drive is to completely possess and dominate another person, who will be your slave and protector. In relation to a man, you expect him to read your mind, and to be the perfect courtier according to your ideas—which are quite unrealistic—and also to be a combination father-mother - nursemaid to you. (To spare you the trouble of growing up, psychologically.)

Very likely it is the wistful helpless quality of your social behavior that first intrigues certain men—who then give chase either (1) because you look vulnerable; or (2) because they think they prefer the leaner - type woman, in whose company they feel big and strong and superior. Until they get closer to her, I may add. But once figuratively embraced in her octopus clutches, and mauled by her feverish quest for constant assurance of love-security, they soon get exhausted and impatient and leery.

Immaturity Seen

Your fights with John, and repetitive talks of breaking with him, are disguised demands for proof from him that he loves you and will never leave you. (But this he doesn't quite fathom). You try him to the utmost, hoping that he will scale every barrier with dogged devotion, and thus rest your fear of being abandoned (to your own resources).

If you were a more mature character, you would simply call John in this crisis, and be frank about longing to see him. You would make up your mind as to what you want; and if you want John as your husband, you would put your cards on the table and try to win him. You wouldn't be playing hard-to-get with shrinking coyness, and leaving the initiative to him, about renewing the romance or letting it drop.

You need psychiatric help to bring you out of infantile patterns of feeling, and put you in the way of developing normally into a womanly adult person.

Pennsy Railroad, Union Sign Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Transport Workers Union and the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday settled their contract dispute when the union heads approved acceptance of an 18½-cent-an-hour package wage increase of 22,500 non-operating employes.

The settlement was announced by Michael J. Quill, TWU head, following a meeting of the union's international representatives and the heads of locals.

The offer was made by the company after a 14-hour negotiating session. The railroad confirmed the settlement.

McCarthy Charge Rapped By Judge

BOSTON (AP) — A federal judge yesterday threw out contempt of Congress charges brought against a witness by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis), ruling that McCarthy's Senate subcommittee on investigations never had authority to investigate anything but the operation of government departments.

United States Judge Bailey Aldrich ruled the McCarthy subcommittee, in asking former Harvard University research assistant Leon J. Kamin, 27, questions relating to privately operated defense plants, "was beyond the scope of its granted authority."

Solon Offering Ohio Hospital Building Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 75-million-dollar state hospital building program, about one-fourth of which would go for new hospitals in Ashland and Hamilton counties, has been proposed by State Sen. Raymond E. Hildebrand.

The Lucas County Republican presented the plan yesterday before the state board of capital planning and improvement. He said it would solve state hospital building problems.

An additional 7,945 beds for mental patients would be provided under the program, Hildebrand explained.

One 2,500-bed hospital would be located in Ashland County, and a 1,000 - bed hospital in Hamilton County, he said. Both hospitals would cost nearly 19 million dollars.

Hildebrand said their construction would relieve overcrowding at Cleveland State, Hawthornden, Massillon, Cambridge, Tiffin, Toledo and Athens institutions.

Enlargement of other state hospitals would not be needed, he added, if the proposed two hospitals were built. His program, however, provides for improvements to most institutions.

These improvements, Hildebrand said, would provide additional beds to make up the over-all total.

Rep. J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland), board chairman, said the board will meet Wednesday to study recommendations for building needs by mental health, school and university groups. The board then will submit its report to the Jan. 16 special session of the Legislature.

Archbishop Named

LONDON (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Arthur Michael Ramsey, bishop of Durham since 1952, has been named Archbishop of York. Queen Elizabeth appointed the 51-year-old bishop as second ranking prelate of the Church of England to succeed the late Dr. Cyril Garbett, who died Saturday.

Girl Wants 'Emancipation' And Support From Her Dad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ione Turner, 17, wants to be "emancipated' from her father. She says he's "cruel and abusive."

Miss Turner, who came to live with her father four months ago, asked recently in court for $500 a month support.

The father, cafe owner Joseph Norman Turner, 47, denied he mistreated her or asked her to leave his Sierra Madre home.

Both Turner and his daughter said he gave her a $100-a-month allowance. She said a great deal of it went back to her father in fines.

"He fined me for anything he thought I'd done wrong," she testified. "If I didn't finish all the food from my plate it was $1. If I left all the burners going on the gas range it was $5 or $10. If I didn't bursh the swimming pool properly it was $10.

Turner said he inaugurated a series of fines to combat her tendency to be wasteful and lazy.

Judge Elmer D. Doyle took the case under submission.

Miss Turner said she had been reared by her mother's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Harold Wiener of Chicago, after her parents were divorced in 1938.

Wiener died last May and her mother, now Mrs. Clarice Cavanaugh, 43, of Culver City, urged her to visit her father.

Red Defendant Freed By Judge

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the 11 defendants accused of plotting to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the government was acquitted yesterday and at least one other may be freed before the case goes to the jury.

Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee ordered the release of David Katz, a 42-year-old jobless bakery truck driver on grounds that he played a "passive" role as a Communist.

Katz wife, Frieda, still is on trial. Judge McNamee said evidence agaist Katz amounts to little more than that he accompanied his wife to meetings.

This new Buick SPECIAL 2-Door 6-Passenger Sedan delivers locally for less than some models of the well-known smaller cars. Come in and check!

If you can afford any new car, you can afford this strapping and stunning Buick SPECIAL Sedan—and no kidding.

For this Buick is tagged within a few dollars of the well-known smaller cars – and actually costs less than some models of those very same cars. The price we show here proves it.

So maybe you can understand why Buick—for two years running now—has outsold every other car in the land, except two of those well-known smaller cars.

Big reason for Buick's soaring sales sweep is that folks are finding here a lot more automobile for the money—more style boldness, more power thrill, more ride stability and more solid structure than the same dollars buy elsewhere.

Just ask yourself: wouldn't you rather go traveling with the lift and life and pace and poise of a stunning new Buick—when it's all yours at just about the price of a smaller car?

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 29, unmarried, and I guess reasonably attractive. I have been going with John for 18 months and I believe I love him; but the catch is, he doesn't think he loves me. We have had many fights, mostly caused by me. I demand too much affection, and when he doesn't do things my way, I am hurt and we fight.

It all came to a head about a week ago. We had broken off during the summer and decided to date others; but somehow we came back together again. I was resolved to end the relationship. John sensed something was wrong. I told him we weren't getting anywhere and we ought to split up. I was amazed to hear that he wanted to tell me the same thing.

After many harsh words I left in anger and he followed to take me home. We had dinner together and I told him exactly how I felt. He said I was too sensitive; that he is afraid to talk out his feelings with me, because I get hurt. (Most of my friends say this, too). He also said he doesn't think he is capable of love, which I don't believe, as I have seen tenderness and love in him. We cried, because he wants to love me and can't. He tok me home.

Second Attempt

Next day he called and I asked what his decision was. He said it was up to me. We decided not to see each other for a month; then meet and say how we feel. He suggested we try to forget each other, but this is imposible for me. I can just barely frain from calling him now. I am afraid to meet him next month. I hope and pray he will say he loves me, but I know he won't.

What can I do? I am studying at right, to occupy my time; and I have thought of psychiatric help but this won't console me. I am alone again and I hate it.

M. P.

DEAR M. P.: In your letter, you say this isn't the only spoiled romance you've had. Also, that you are shy in a group and very awkward, but somehow you attract men, who stay interested for a year at least. Add to this your closing line, that you are alone again and hate it, and we begin to get a picture of what ails you.

You are an infantile character, extremely dependent and anxiously, utterly self-engrossed. Your emotional drive is to completely possess and dominate another person, who will be your slave and protector. In relation to a man, you expect him to read your mind, and to be the perfect courtier according to your ideas—which are quite unrealistic—and also to be a combination father-mother - nursemaid to you. (To spare you the trouble of growing up, psychologically.)

Very likely it is the wistful helpless quality of your social behavior that first intrigues certain men—who then give chase either (1) because you look vulnerable; or (2) because they think they prefer the leaner - type woman, in whose company they feel big and strong and superior. Until they get closer to her, I may add. But once figuratively embraced in her octopus clutches, and mauled by her feverish quest for constant assurance of love-security, they soon get exhausted and impatient and leery.

Immaturity Seen

Your fights with John, and repetitive talks of breaking with him, are disguised demands for proof from him that he loves you and will never leave you. (But this he doesn't quite fathom). You try him to the utmost, hoping that he will scale every barrier with dogged devotion, and thus rest your fear of being abandoned (to your own resources).

If you were a more mature character, you would simply call John in this crisis, and be frank about longing to see him. You would make up your mind as to what you want; and if you want John as your husband, you would put your cards on the table and try to win him. You wouldn't be playing hard-to-get with shrinking coyness, and leaving the initiative to him, about renewing the romance or letting it drop.

You need psychiatric help to bring you out of infantile patterns of feeling, and put you in the way of developing normally into a womanly adult person.

Pennsy Railroad, Union Sign Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Transport Workers Union and the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday settled their contract dispute when the union heads approved acceptance of an 18½-cent-an-hour package wage increase of 22,500 non-operating employes.

The settlement was announced by Michael J. Quill, TWU head, following a meeting of the union's international representatives and the heads of locals.

The offer was made by the company after a 14-hour negotiating session. The railroad confirmed the settlement.

McCarthy Charge Rapped By Judge

BOSTON (AP) — A federal judge yesterday threw out contempt of Congress charges brought against a witness by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis), ruling that McCarthy's Senate subcommittee on investigations never had authority to investigate anything but the operation of government departments.

United States Judge Bailey Aldrich ruled the McCarthy subcommittee, in asking former Harvard University research assistant Leon J. Kamin, 27, questions relating to privately operated defense plants, "was beyond the scope of its granted authority."

Solon Offering Ohio Hospital Building Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 75-million-dollar state hospital building program, about one-fourth of which would go for new hospitals in Ashland and Hamilton counties, has been proposed by State Sen. Raymond E. Hildebrand.

The Lucas County Republican presented the plan yesterday before the state board of capital planning and improvement. He said it would solve state hospital building problems.

An additional 7,945 beds for mental patients would be provided under the program, Hildebrand explained.

One 2,500-bed hospital would be located in Ashland County, and a 1,000 - bed hospital in Hamilton County, he said. Both hospitals would cost nearly 19 million dollars.

Hildebrand said their construction would relieve overcrowding at Cleveland State, Hawthornden, Massillon, Cambridge, Tiffin, Toledo and Athens institutions.

Enlargement of other state hospitals would not be needed, he added, if the proposed two hospitals were built. His program, however, provides for improvements to most institutions.

These improvements, Hildebrand said, would provide additional beds to make up the over-all total.

Rep. J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland), board chairman, said the board will meet Wednesday to study recommendations for building needs by mental health, school and university groups. The board then will submit its report to the Jan. 16 special session of the Legislature.

Archbishop Named

LONDON (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Arthur Michael Ramsey, bishop of Durham since 1952, has been named Archbishop of York. Queen Elizabeth appointed the 51-year-old bishop as second ranking prelate of the Church of England to succeed the late Dr. Cyril Garbett, who died Saturday.

Girl Wants 'Emancipation' And Support From Her Dad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ione Turner, 17, wants to be "emancipated' from her father. She says he's "cruel and abusive."

Miss Turner, who came to live with her father four months ago, asked recently in court for $500 a month support.

The father, cafe owner Joseph Norman Turner, 47, denied he mistreated her or asked her to leave his Sierra Madre home.

Both Turner and his daughter said he gave her a $100-a-month allowance. She said a great deal of it went back to her father in fines.

"He fined me for anything he thought I'd done wrong," she testified. "If I didn't finish all the food from my plate it was $1. If I left all the burners going on the gas range it was $5 or $10. If I didn't bursh the swimming pool properly it was $10.

Turner said he inaugurated a series of fines to combat her tendency to be wasteful and lazy.

Judge Elmer D. Doyle took the case under submission.

Miss Turner said she had been reared by her mother's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Harold Wiener of Chicago, after her parents were divorced in 1938.

Wiener died last May and her mother, now Mrs. Clarice Cavanaugh, 43, of Culver City, urged her to visit her father.

Red Defendant Freed By Judge

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the 11 defendants accused of plotting to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the government was acquitted yesterday and at least one other may be freed before the case goes to the jury.

Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee ordered the release of David Katz, a 42-year-old jobless bakery truck driver on grounds that he played a "passive" role as a Communist.

Katz wife, Frieda, still is on trial. Judge McNamee said evidence agaist Katz amounts to little more than that he accompanied his wife to meetings.

This new Buick SPECIAL 2-Door 6-Passenger Sedan delivers locally for less than some models of the well-known smaller cars. Come in and check!

If you can afford any new car, you can afford this strapping and stunning Buick SPECIAL Sedan—and no kidding.

For this Buick is tagged within a few dollars of the well-known smaller cars — and actually costs less than some models of those very same cars. The price we show here proves it.

So maybe you can understand why Buick—for two years running now—has outsold every other car in the land, except two of those well-known smaller cars.

Big reason for Buick's soaring sales sweep is that folks are finding here a lot more automobile for the money—more style boldness, more power thrill, more ride stability and more solid structure than the same dollars buy elsewhere.

Just ask yourself: wouldn't you rather go traveling with the lift and life and pace and poise of a stunning new Buick—when it's all yours at just about the price of a smaller car?

LONG RANGE TV IN SIGHT

"SCATTER Propagation", an innovation in the field of long-range radio communications, gives promise of completely revamping communication systems as they are known today. Although this device has been used for some time by the military, until recently it was withheld from the public under security measures.

By utilizing vagabond colonies of electrically charged particles high in the atmosphere, scatter propagation opens wide the doors to "long distance remote control of industrial operations," new ranges of radio frequencies, more effective defense of the North American continent by hastening the day of intercontinental guided missiles, and the possibility of intercontinental television chains by increasing transmission distances.

Scatter propagation was the subject of a two-day Washington meeting sponsored by the Institute of Radio Engineers and George Washington University. It was at this meeting that problems of the new system still to be overcome were discussed in an effort to effect an early solution so American communications industries can begin to utilize the advanced device.

Knowledge gained from the new system will be of particular importance to the television industry, which has been plagued since its inception by the small distance its ultra short wave signals could be transmitted. Under scatter propagation, however, relay stations would be practically eliminated and television chains could be operated much the same as radio is today.

This new system differs from present ones in that it utilizes the short wave energy scattered by the ionosphere, which exists 50 to 250 miles above the earth. Engineers compare this to the scattering of light from a searchlight on a hazy night; the brighter the searchlight, the greater the amount of scattered light.

THEY SHOULD TRY IT

RUSSIA, Red China, India and other government-managed nations have their five-year plans. One follows on the heels of another in an effort to improve the economies of their countries. They have indifferent success.

America needs no such, thanks to its private enterprise system. An expansive program is built into the system. The mainspring of it is the hope of private profit.

American business has already announced plans to spent $30 billion for expansion and technological improvements during 1956. In 1955 $28 billion was spent for the same purposes.

That the system works is indicated by the fact that the U. S. productive plant now employs approximately all those who are willing to work. As expansion proceeds, the constantly growing labor force has a larger employment base. In the five-year plan lands incomes and standard of living are far lower.

The managed economy countries ought which they denounce with such vigor. It would be a bitter dose for the politicians to swallow, but good for the people.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Reports from Texas indicate that Tom Dewey is seeking the second choice preference from Republicans in that state. By second choice preference is meant that in the event that Eisenhower will decide not to run or cannot run or dies, this delegation would be for Dewey.

At any rate, word to that effect is being spread among Republicans with the hope of scaring off the followers of Nixon and Knowland.

From other quarters come evidences that the Dewey organization is playing up his willingness to run for Vice President. The statements are going the rounds that Thomas E. Dewey is willing to sacrifice himself by accepting a second place on the ballot, so that should Eisenhower not be able to complete his second term, the United States would not be left in the lurch.

Dewey, it may be recalled, ran twice for the Presidency, was twice defeated, and was the principal sponsor of Eisenhower for President. For such a man to take second place is indeed a sacrifice. Suppose Eisenhower lives, as we all hope he may, to be as old as Herbert Hoover and Bernard Baruch, Dewey could go down in the back pages of the "World Almanac" as among the Vice Presidents.

It is clear now that Senators Knowland, Bridges, McCarthy and others will run in some states as favorite sons. Should they carry the states in the primaries in which they enter, enough votes would be withdrawn to make nominations on the first ballot at the Republican Convention.

It is not yet clear how many favorite sons there will be, but most Senators and Governors like the mention and applause and when this game gets started, it rolls on and on. A favorite son operation will also appear in the Democratic Convention. Unless Eisenhower runs, neither Convention will be of short duration therefore.

I have talked to some Democrats about the re-emergence of Tom Dewey and they seem pleased because, they say, it means renewal of the Dewey-Taft split, an attack on the White House Regency, particularly on Sherman Adams, James Hagerty, Herbert Brownell, Jr., and Maxwell Rabb by Republicans of the Taft persuasion, much of it on the floors of Congress. The Democrats say that it will help them enormously.

On the other hand, it must be recalled that it was the Dewey group in the Administration, who organized and directed the fight on Senator Joe McCarthy which McCarthy lost but which nobody won. Up to now, the McCarthyites have been blaming Vice President Nixon for the character of the Watkins Committee and there is a long story behind that. But if Dewey's name appears at the Republican Convention, animosity will shift from Nixon to Dewey who will become the target of the McCarthyites.

In the Convention, what counts are delegates. If the opposition to Dewey has enough votes, the Republican Convention can be disrupted. As a matter of fact, if Eisenhower does not run, it is safe to say that the disruption is assured.

If Eisenhower does run and Dewey runs for Vice President, the disruption is assured. That is why all the Democratic leaders I have talked to display such enthusiasm over any form of Dewey candidacy. They know that it means a fight inside the Republican Party.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

ON MONDAY Lora walked up the hill to call on John Ambrose. They were sitting chatting comfortably, when a great knocking sounded at the door. John opened it to admit an excited, breathless Morgan.

"The woods are on fire, the wind has come up and the smoke is blowing this way!" Morgan cried.

They followed her without question, hurrying up the driveway to the house. Morgan shouted to John to go round the back, and dragged Lora upstairs.

She ran toward the empty rear bedroom and Lora followed her onto the balcony and stood beside her looking out over the tree-studded hills. As was its custom on Staten Island, the wind had come up suddenly and fire on the opposite hill had seared its way to the valley, leaving a black path behind it. A great flaming area was visible.

Lora choked as a gust of wind blew the white smoke their way. Morgan twisted her hands together.

"If this wind holds, my house is in the fire path! And we've nothing but brush around. Something must be done!"

She was already running toward the stairs and Lora hurried after her. "I'll get Wade."

"Get Adam too. Every man you can find. I'll have the stable boy give the alarm."

Lora plunged breathlessly down the hill, tripping now and then over a root across the path, sparing herself not at all. The smoke haze had not yet crept down the hill. Mother Tyler sat at the open window where her chair had been wheeled.

"There's a fire coming up through the woods toward Morgan's house!" Lora cried as she ran into the yard. "Peter must go up there, and I'm going to fetch Adam."

"Lora!" Mrs. Tyler cried from her window, and the girl turned impatiently in mid-flight.

"I can't stop now," she told the old lady. "If Wade comes home you'd better send him right up there. They may need every man they can raise. I'll come back as soon as I can."

She had seen woodland fires at home.

When she reached the Lords' she did not wait for the polite ringing of the bell to be heard, but pounded on the door and shouted for Adam.

He came at once, with his sister behind him. He still looked sallow from his recent attack of fever, but at least he was well again.

"There's a fire coming up the hill toward Morgan's house," she told them. "If the wind stays as it is now there may be real danger."

Adam assured Serena that there was nothing she could do and came with Lora at once. Together they started toward the hill path and Lora had to trot to keep up with Adam's longer stride.

"You'd better go home," he advised. "And keep a watch-out. If this thing gets out of control it could burn its way down this side of the hill, too. Though the Channing grounds and the upper curve of Dogwood lane make a natural fire-break which may help."

"I'm going with you," Lora said. "There'll be things I can do at Morgan's and they'll need every hand."

He threw her a quick look, but offered no objection. They saved themselves for fast climbing and did no more talking until they reached the level of the pool and stopped a moment for breath. Adam did not look too fit, and Lora regarded him doubtfully.

"Perhaps you shouldn't be doing this. After all, you've been ill and —"

"Don't trouble being sorry for me. I'm all right," he said shortly. "Let's get on." They hurried upward again.

Ambrose and Peter were already at work. Clothilde, the French housekeeper, and the other women servants were drawing water from the well, while men stood on ladders throwing pails of it on the roofs of stable and servant's quarters nearest the danger. Over everything hung the ominous white haze and the air was uncomfortable to breathe.

The bells of rival fire companies could be heard clanging up the hill and in a few moments the horses of the Zephyr Co. appeared pulling the heavy engine up the drive, while volunteer firemen overran the grounds. A few were equipped with red hats and shirts but most of them had come dressed as they were when the alarm sounded. Hose was quickly lowered into the well and volunteers manned the hand pump.

Lora stood for a few moments watching the single, thin stream of water begin the doubtful task of watering down the space of brush back of the Channing grounds. The second fire company had arrived shortly after the first, but its men stood idly by, watching the progress of the fire up the hill. It was likely that they would not lift a finger unless the first company agreed to "slice the melon" by sharing the insurance company's reward. The sight made Lora indignant, but she knew there was no way to oppose this ridiculous system. Not even if the house burned down.

She went to work in the kitchen, setting a huge coffee pot on the stove. The reviving powers of the brew would be needed in the hours ahead while all hands worked at the emergency.

Through the kitchen window she could hear the not too distant crackling of the flames. The stifling smell of the fire now pervaded the entire house and her eyes smarted constantly.

Morgan came up from the cellar carrying a stack of gunny sacking to be taken outside and soaked with water, in the event of hand-to-hand fighting with encroached flames. She glanced at Lora, apparently taking her efforts for granted, and ran outside at once with her burden.

Lora found big china cups kept for the use of the servants and filled them with the steaming liquid. These she set on a tray and carried outside to serve to whoever needed a respite. Again and again she made the trip, for the coffee was accepted gratefully wherever she went.

How To Leap In Leap Year

By HAL BOYLE

The old saying that "Love will find a way" doesn't hold true this year. There are only 17 million possible husbands available for 20 million possible wives.

In this mathematical dilemma neither Congress nor television can dream up a giveaway program that will award every maid what she wants—a real live mate.

It's a time when every smart girl becomes her own kangaroo, and leaps "thar fustest with the mostest." But in seeking a husband she must beware her tactics don't boomerang.

The only real rule of the matrimonial chase is "catch as catch can." But as some overanxious ladies have already learned to their regret, some lures work better with the wild male beast than others. And some don't work at all.

What is the best way? There is no one best way. It depends on the prey.

As I see it, the market divides itself roughly into four general classes: (1) elderly childless widowers; (2) middle-aged widowers with children; (3) professional bachelors; and (4) amateur bachelors.

Let us consider them in turn.

It is a well known fact that elderly widowers tend to turn their hearts to widows. Any girl interested in reaping one of these gaffers, therefore, should first become a widow herself. There are several techniques in how this can be done, but each woman is on her own and in this problem will get no help from me. I'm a married man myself.

To win a middle-aged widower with offspring you must do two things. First, write the U. S. Chilren's Bureau for a pamphlet on how to get along with children. Apply this knowledge to his kids. Give them a firm kindness and love. Once they want to have you around, he'll have to have you around. The second thing you have to do is to handle him. Treat him kindly, so that he'll feel like one of the children, too. But also bawl him out occasionally—so that he won't get too lonesome for his first wife.

The professional bachelor is a tougher nut to crack. He is full of bad habits, wary of women, thinks he knows what he wants out of life and is sure it isn't marriage.

To try to reform a pro bachelor is to become his victim. The right approach is to encourage him in his bad habits until he breaks down with an ulcer or a heart attack, then he is wide open for marriage. Wifehood in this case, of course, generally is also nursehood.

There is no set, sure way to win the fourth type—the amateur bachelor. You have to improvise with young fellows today. They get more difficult every year.

But here are a few general tips that should stand up:

If he catches a common cold, try to avoid coming down with pneumonia youself. A man is afraid of a woman who can always outdo him.

If he invites you up to a home-cooked meal in his apartment, don't complain about how he burned the canned spaghetti. Remember, after you're married, you can bring in a good well-cooked spaghetti from the nearest delicatessen.

Cry once on his shoulder during a sentimental movie, but only once. Every man likes to know his wife has a soft heart, but no man ever married Niagara Falls.

Remember, you're not fooling with one guy out of a million. He's one out of 17 million—and there are 19,999,999 other single American ladies who might be looking for a chance to snare him.

Artery Banks Aid Those With Damaged Arteries

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

YOU can get more than money from a bank. It all depends, of course, on which bank you go to.

Artery banks, for example — most medical centers now have them — might be of more value to you than a financial institution.

Damaged Artery

Surgery to replace a damaged artery, either with a human blood vessel or one made from plastic, orlon, nylon, dacron or other synthetic materials, has passed the experimental stage.

Until recently, advanced gangrene resulting from a clot in a major artery blocking the blood supply to the leg, meant amputation. It is not so today. Although amputation still will be necessary in many cases, artery grafting might aid many others.

Writing in a recent issue of Modern Concepts of Cardiovascular Disease, Dr. Robert S. Shaw reports grafting also is frequently effective in correcting arterial defects known as "aneurysms."

An aneurysm is formed when a section of an artery wall, weakened by disease, balloons out. Now this not only interferes with circulation, it might also burst. And that might be fatal.

Blood Vessel Banks

The American Heart Association is helping to facilitate these artery operations for those of you who need them by preparing recommendations for establishment and maintenance of blood vessel banks.

The Association says there should be uniform standards in procurement and storage of both artificial and natural blood vessels for grafts.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. R.: I have a ring of whitish material on each eyeball around the pupil. Is this due to hardening of the arteries?

Answer: The ring you mention is due to a fat deposit within the eye. This has not been proven to be due to hardening of the arteries except in a few cases.

LONG RANGE TV IN SIGHT

"SCATTER Propagation", an innovation in the field of long-range radio communications, gives promise of completely revamping communication systems as they are known today. Although this device has been used for some time by the military, until recently it was withheld from the public under security measures.

By utilizing vagabond colonies of electrically charged particles high in the atmosphere, scatter propagation opens wide the doors to "long distance remote control of industrial operations," new ranges of radio frequencies, more effective defense of the North American continent by hastening the day of intercontinental guided missiles, and the possibility of intercontinental television chains by increasing transmission distances.

Scatter propagation was the subject of a two-day Washington meeting sponsored by the Institute of Radio Engineers and George Washington University. It was at this meeting that problems of the new system still to be overcome were discussed in an effort to effect an early solution so American communications industries can begin to utilize the advanced device.

Knowledge gained from the new system will be of particular importance to the television industry, which has been plagued since its inception by the small distance its ultra short wave signals could be transmitted. Under scatter propagation, however, relay stations would be practically eliminated and television chains could be operated much the same as radio is today.

This new system differs from present ones in that it utilizes the short wave energy scattered by the ionosphere, which exists 50 to 250 miles above the earth. Engineers compare this to the scattering of light from a searchlight on a hazy night; the brighter the searchlight, the greater the amount of scattered light.

THEY SHOULD TRY IT

RUSSIA, Red China, India and other government-managed nations have their five-year plans. One follows on the heels of another in an effort to improve the economies of their countries. They have indifferent success.

America needs no such, thanks to its private enterprise system. An expansive program is built into the system. The mainspring of it is the hope of private profit.

American business has already announced plans to spent $30 billion for expansion and technological improvements during 1956. In 1955 $28 billion was spent for the same purposes.

That the system works is indicated by the fact that the U. S. productive plant now employs approximately all those who are willing to work. As expansion proceeds, the constantly growing labor force has a larger employment base. In the five-year plan lands incomes and standard of living are far lower.

The managed economy countries ought which they denounce with such vigor. It would be a bitter dose for the politicians to swallow, but good for the people.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Reports from Texas indicate that Tom Dewey is seeking the second choice preference from Republicans in that state. By second choice preference is meant that in the event that Eisenhower will decide not to run or cannot run or dies, this delegation would be for Dewey.

At any rate, word to that effect is being spread among Republicans with the hope of scaring off the followers of Nixon and Knowland.

From other quarters come evidences that the Dewey organization is playing up his willingness to run for Vice President. The statements are going the rounds that Thomas E. Dewey is willing to sacrifice himself by accepting a second place on the ballot, so that should Eisenhower not be able to complete his second term, the United States would not be left in the lurch.

Dewey, it may be recalled, ran twice for the Presidency, was twice defeated, and was the principal sponsor of Eisenhower for President. For such a man to take second place is indeed a sacrifice. Suppose Eisenhower lives, as we all hope he may, to be as old as Herbert Hoover and Bernard Baruch, Dewey could go down in the back pages of the "World Almanac" as among the Vice Presidents.

It is clear now that Senators Knowland, Bridges, McCarthy and others will run in some states as favorite sons. Should they carry the states in the primaries in which they enter, enough votes would be withdrawn to make nominations on the first ballot at the Republican Convention.

It is not yet clear how many favorite sons there will be, but most Senators and Governors like the mention and applause and when this game gets started, it rolls on and on. A favorite son operation will also appear in the Democratic Convention. Unless Eisenhower runs, neither Convention will be of short duration therefore.

I have talked to some Democrats about the re-emergence of Tom Dewey and they seem pleased because, they say, it means renewal of the Dewey-Taft split, an attack on the White House Regency, particularly on Sherman Adams, James Hagerty, Herbert Brownell, Jr., and Maxwell Rabb by Republicans of the Taft persuasion, much of it on the floors of Congress. The Democrats say that it will help them enormously.

On the other hand, it must be recalled that it was the Dewey group in the Administration, who organized and directed the fight on Senator Joe McCarthy which McCarthy lost but which nobody won. Up to now, the McCarthyites have been blaming Vice President Nixon for the character of the Watkins Committee and there is a long story behind that. But if Dewey's name appears at the Republican Convention, animosity will shift from Nixon to Dewey who will become the target of the McCarthyites.

In the Convention, what counts are delegates. If the opposition to Dewey has enough votes, the Republican Convention can be disrupted. As a matter of fact, if Eisenhower does not run, it is safe to say that the disruption is assured.

If Eisenhower does run and Dewey runs for Vice President, the disruption is assured. That is why all the Democratic leaders I have talked to display such enthusiasm over any form of Dewey candidacy. They know that it means a fight inside the Republican Party.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

ON MONDAY Lora walked up the hill to call on John Ambrose. They were sitting chatting comfortably, when a great knocking sounded at the door. John opened it to admit an excited, breathless Morgan.

"The woods are on fire, the wind has come up and the smoke is blowing this way!" Morgan cried.

They followed her without question, hurrying up the driveway to the house. Morgan shouted to John to go round the back, and dragged Lora upstairs.

She ran toward the empty rear bedroom and Lora followed her onto the balcony and stood beside her looking out over the tree-studded hills. As was its custom on Staten island, the wind had come up suddenly and fire on the opposite hill had seared its way to the valley, leaving a black path behind it. A great flaming area was visible.

Lora choked as a gust of wind blew the white smoke their way. Morgan twisted her hands together.

"If this wind holds, my house is in the fire path! And we've nothing but brush around. Something must be done!"

"Get Adam too. Every man you can find. I'll have the stable boy give the alarm."

Lora plunged breathlessly down the hill, tripping now and then over a root across the path, sparing herself not at all. The smoke haze had not yet crept down the hill. Mother Tyler sat at the open window where her chair had been wheeled.

"There's a fire coming up through the woods toward Morgan's house!" Lora cried as she ran into the yard. "Peter must go up there, and I'm going to fetch Adam."

"Lora!" Mrs. Tyler cried from her window, and the girl turned impatiently in mid-flight.

"I can't stop now," she told the old lady. "If Wade comes home you'd better send him right up there. They may need every man they can raise. I'll come back as soon as I can."

She had seen woodland fires at home.

When she reached the Lords' she did not wait for the polite ringing of the bell to be heard, but pounded on the door and shouted for Adam.

He came at once, with his sister behind him. He still looked sallow from his recent attack of fever, but at least he was well again.

"There's a fire coming up the hill toward Morgan's house," she told them. "If the wind stays as it is now there may be real danger."

Adam assured Serena that there was nothing she could do and came with Lora at once. Together they started toward the hill path and Lora had to trot to keep up with Adam's longer stride.

"You'd better go home," he advised. "And keep a watch-out. If this thing gets out of control it could burn its way down this side of the hill, too. Though the Channing grounds and the upper curve of Dogwood lane make a natural fire-break which may help."

"I'm going with you," Lora said. "There'll be things I can do at Morgan's and they'll need every hand."

He threw her a quick look, but offered no objection. They saved themselves for fast climbing and did no more talking until they reached the level of the pool and stopped a moment for breath. Adam did not look too fit, and Lora regarded him doubtfully.

"Perhaps you shouldn't be doing this. After all, you've been ill and —"

"Don't trouble being sorry for me. I'm all right," he said shortly. "Let's get on." They hurried upward again.

Ambrose and Peter were already at work. Clothilde, the French housekeeper, and the other women servants were drawing water from the well, while men stood on ladders throwing pails of it on the roofs of stable and servant's quarters nearest the danger. Over everything hung the ominous white haze and the air was uncomfortable to breathe.

The bells of rival fire companies could be heard clanging up the hill and in a few moments the horses of the Zephyr Co. appeared pulling the heavy engine up the drive, while volunteer firemen overran the grounds. A few were equipped with red hats and shirts but most of them had come dressed as they were when the alarm sounded. Hose was quickly lowered into the well and volunteers manned the hand pump.

Lora stood for a few moments watching the single, thin stream of water begin the doubtful task of watering down the space of brush back of the Channing grounds. The second fire company had arrived shortly after the first, but its men stood idly by, watching the progress of the fire up the hill. It was likely that they would not lift a finger unless the first company agreed to "slice the melon" by sharing the insurance company's reward. The sight made Lora indignant, but she knew there was no way to oppose this ridiculous system. Not even if the house burned down.

She went to work in the kitchen, setting a huge coffee pot on the stove. The reviving powers of the brew would be needed in the hours ahead while all hands worked at the emergency.

Through the kitchen window she could hear the not too distant crackling of the flames. The stifling smell of the fire now pervaded the entire house and her eyes smarted constantly.

Morgan came up from the cellar carrying a stack of gunny sacking to be taken outside and soaked with water, in the event of hand-to-hand fighting with encroached flames. She glanced at Lora, apparently taking her efforts for granted, and ran outside at once with her burden.

Lora found big china cups kept for the use of the servants and filled them with the steaming liquid. These she set on a tray and carried outside to serve to whoever needed a respite. Again and again she made the trip, for the coffee was accepted gratefully wherever she went.

How To Leap In Leap Year

By HAL BOYLE

The old saying that "Love will find a way" doesn't hold true this year. There are only 17 million possible husbands available for 20 million possible wives.

In this mathematical dilemma neither Congress nor television can dream up a giveaway program that will award every maid what she wants—a real live mate.

It's a time when every smart girl becomes her own kangaroo, and leaps "thar fustest with the mostest." But in seeking a husband she must beware her tactics don't boomerang.

The only real rule of the matrimonial chase is "catch as catch can." But as some overanxious ladies have already learned to their regret, some lures work better with the wild male beast than others. And some don't work at all.

What is the best way? There is no one best way. It depends on the prey.

As I see it, the market divides itself roughly into four general classes: (1) elderly childless widowers; (2) middle-aged widowers with children; (3) professional bachelors; and (4) amateur bachelors.

Let us consider them in turn.

It is a well known fact that elderly widowers tend to turn their hearts to widows. Any girl interested in reaping one of these gaffers, therefore, should first become a widow herself. Shower, Talk And Film Feature Garden Club Meet

A talk was given, a film shown and a shower was held at the January meeting of the Circlevlle Garden Club Thursday evening. The group met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cook of 131 Park Pl.

Mrs. Donald H. Watt gave the talk on the outstanding flower arrangements demonstrated at a recent workshop in Lancaster.

Mr. William Cook showed the film, entitled "Modern Trends in the Bedding Plant Business." The film showed the All-American winners for 1956, which included: Best of the petunias, Fire Dance and White Magic; marigold, Cupid; and zennia, Ice Cream. Varieties of salvia and other bedding plants also were shown. The best methods of growing and handling were demonstrated in the film.

Highlight of the meeting was the shower honoring Mrs. Charles Hildreth of Fairborn, a recent bride and member of the club.

Besides the honored guest, Mrs. Hildreth of Fairborn, other guests were: Mrs. J. A. Johnson of Gallipolis, Miss Carol Kern, Mrs. Kirby Drake, Miss Lyn, Miss Ann, and Mr. Alex Cook, all of Circleville.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. William Cook assisted by Mrs. Channing Vlerebome and Mrs. C. C. McClure.

You can make five servings of a nutritious soup by mixing a can of condensed beef noodle soup with a can of condensed vegetable soup. Stir in one and one-half soup-cans of milk, and heat until hot but not boiling.

Zwayer-Martin Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zwayer of Duvall are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sharon, to Mr. Porter Martin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Martin of Circleville Route 3.

Miss Swayer is a graduate of Ashville-Harrison High School and is employed by Grange Mutual Casualty Company of Columbus.

Mr. Martin was graduated from Walnut Township High School and is attending Ohio State University.

No date has been set for the wedding.

A pound of shelled almonds or Brazil nuts measures three cups; a pound of shelled walnuts or pecans measures 4 cups.

Canned vegetables are already cooked, so if you boil them instead of just heating them through thoroughly, you'll destroy food values, flavor, and texture.

One way to size up a cauliflower head at your vegetable market is to hold it for a few seconds—the head should seem heavy for its size.

Good Refreshments Make Parties, Meetings Complete

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

This familiar phrase is used in countless stories of parties or club meetings. Refreshments are always simple and tasty. Yet, when everyone leaves, the memory of fine refreshments remains.

Blue Cheese Puffs: Combine one cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 5¼ oz.) one (three oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened, one-half cup grated processed Cheddar cheese, two tbsp. all-purpose flour and dash cayenne pepper. Beat until well blended. Fold three stiffly beaten egg whites into cheese mixture.

Drop mixture carefully by teaspoonfuls into hot deep fat (375 deg. F.) and fry one minute or until browned on all sides. Drain on absorbent paper and serve immediately. Makes three dozen.

Pickle Cheese Tarts: Roll one-half recipe for plain pastry out on lightly floured surface to ⅛-in. thickness; cut 16 rounds. Fit rounds into small muffin pan and place one slice sweet fresh cucumber pickle over each pastry.

Melt two tbsp. butter or margarine and add three tbsp. finely chopped onion; cook over low heat until onion is tender. Add 1½ cups grated processed Swiss cheese (about one-third lb.) and two tbsp. all-purpose flour, and stir until cheese is melted.

Combine one egg yolk and two tbsp. milk and add to cheese mixture; mix until all ingredients are blended.

Shower, Talk And Film Feature Garden Club Meet

A talk was given, a film shown and a shower was held at the January meeting of the Circlevlle Garden Club Thursday evening. The group met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cook of 131 Park Pl.

Mrs. Donald H. Watt gave the talk on the outstanding flower arrangements demonstrated at a recent workshop in Lancaster.

Mr. William Cook showed the film, entitled "Modern Trends in the Bedding Plant Business." The film showed the All-American winners for 1956, which included: Best of the petunias, Fire Dance and White Magic; marigold, Cupid; and zennia, Ice Cream. Varieties of salvia and other bedding plants also were shown. The best methods of growing and handling were demonstrated in the film.

Highlight of the meeting was the shower honoring Mrs. Charles Hildreth of Fairborn, a recent bride and member of the club.

Besides the honored guest, Mrs. Hildreth of Fairborn, other guests were: Mrs. J. A. Johnson of Gallipolis, Miss Carol Kern, Mrs. Kirby Drake, Miss Lyn, Miss Ann, and Mr. Alex Cook, all of Circleville.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. William Cook assisted by Mrs. Channing Vlerebome and Mrs. C. C. McClure.

You can make five servings of a nutritious soup by mixing a can of condensed beef noodle soup with a can of condensed vegetable soup. Stir in one and one-half soup-cans of milk, and heat until hot but not boiling.

Jesus Teaches Confidence in God

FEAR NOT, TRUST IN THE FATHER TO SUPPLY YOUR NEEDS

Scripture—Luke 12:4-53.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

CONFIDENCE in God is what Jesus teaches us in this lesson. If we keep His teaching in mind, not just when we are studying the lesson, but in all our activities during our lives, we could get rid of the fears and anxieties that haunt us, and live in full confidence that we will receive help when we need it.

Even little children have their fears and anxieties. If they can talk them over with their mothers and the mothers have memorized our Lord's teachings, they can turn the youngsters to God and lessen or do away with their fears. And they can show their little ones in their own lives how to cultivate this confidence in their Maker.

Jesus had been speaking with great severity about hypocrisy. Now he turns to the subject of fear. In our day, in spite of the fact that the majority of people in our nation are earning more money than ever before, and own more of the comforts of life, they are filled with anxieties that have never been known before.

They fear that war may break forth in uneasy parts of the world; they fear the atom bomb buys comforts for the home, education for the children, etc., but what if a home is unhappy with friction? How about family and friends who love us, and are willing to sacrifice for us and that we can love and sacrifice for?

What makes life truly happy is the help we can be to those who need it, the love we can give to those around us whether we have money or not. The uprightness of our lives. These are the things which make us "rich toward God."

"Therefore I say unto you, take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment."

"Consider the ravens; for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them; how much are ye better than the fowls?"

A raven is one of loneliest birds known; it indeed has no storehouse of food, is usually alone and sits forlornly on the mountain cliff uttering its doleful croak.

"And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit? . . . Consider the lilies how they grow; they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

"If then God so clothe the grass, which is today in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will He clothe you, O ye of little faith?"

"But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

"Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth."

The faithful servant, he who works diligently for his master, even when that master is absent; not he that takes advantage of the absence to do as he pleases and abuses his trust, is the one who wins rewards, said Jesus. "For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and to whom men have committeed much, of him they will ask the more."

So, while we are on earth, we too must be faithful servants, trusting God to bring us through, and working diligently as Jesus teaches, until He come again.

MEMORY VERSE

"And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after; and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you."—Luke 12:29-31.

and what it might do to the world if in the hands of unscrupulous people or nations. Even with all this, we can cultivate trust in the good God whose world it is, and learn to be serene.

Jesus is asked by one man in the vast multitude that surrounded Him, if He would speak to the man's brother that an inheritance be divided. This man had doubtless been listening only with his ears to the Lord's teaching, but his mind was concerned with earthly things—money that he might lay his hands on.

Jesus said, "Take heed of covetousness, for a man's life, consisteth not in the abundance of the things that he possesseth."

Then the Lord told a parable about a man who had taken such plentiful harvests that his barns were overflowing. He thought what he should do, and decided to tear down his old barns and build larger ones, then to sit back and enjoy life. That night God required his life, "then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?"

"So is he that layeth up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God," Jesus said.

It is always a surprise to me to notice what store many people set by money. True, money

Carl Sandburg Eyes His Advanced Age

FLAT ROCK, N.C. (AP) — Carl Sandburg, 78 today, says he sometimes feels he's "lived past my years."

Yet the great poet says he hopes to have published in the future a book of poetry "which will be longer and better than anything I have ever gotten out."

"I'm sticking pretty close these days, and not taking on as heavy a schedule as I used to."

He doesn't make so many lectures as before, but he'll take part Feb. 12 in "A Lincoln Portrait," an AAron Copeland performance on the Ed Sullivan television show.

Indian Arrow Root
FAMOUS KIDNEY AND LIVER MEDICINE
BY TAKING THIS COUPON TO DOWNTOWN DRUG STORES
We want every family to have a bottle of Indian ARROW ROOT while supply lasts. To prove the value of this wonderful product of Nature, we make this liberal offer. In the treatment of Stomach, Gall Bladder, Liver and Kidney trouble you will be delighted with its mild thorough results. Within eight hours it will usually drive poisons from the body that are black as ink. Rheumatism and Neuritis pains and aches will as a rule start to disappear the second or third day, as nature is given a chance to function and regular elimination is restored.
Swelling and stiffness usually require eight to ten doses. However, Bloating, Indigestion and Gas in the stomach are usually relieved with but one dose. Regulation of the bowels is most important and you will usually depend on full and free elimination within eight or ten hours after taking the first dose.
If you are bothered with Stubborn Cough or Cold, take one tablespoon full of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of water — add one teaspoon full of soda. Stir well. Within two to three doses your Cold will usually disappear.
WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL AND YOU'LL JUMP OUT OF BED IN THE MORNING RARIN' TO GO.
The liver should pour about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
It takes mild, gentle Arrow Root to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." This preparation contains 12 of the best herbs grown in America, and it will work bile off of the liver black as ink. Get a bottle of Arrow Root today at Downtown Drug Stores.
For Constipation and Nervousness alone it is a God-send to any Man, Woman or Child who will take it. You can take one tablespoon of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of hot water and it will stop indigestion faster than add the Soda you can get in your stomach.
INDIAN ARROW ROOT is sold to you on an absolutely money back guarantee. If you are not satisfied with results, your purchase price will be refunded by your dealer.
If you buy a bottle of Indian Arrow Root for $1.50 Downtown Drug Stores will give you a full $1.50 bottle Absolutely Free.

Carl Sandburg Eyes His Advanced Age

FLAT ROCK, N.C. (AP) — Carl Sandburg, 78 today, says he sometimes feels he's "lived past my years."

Yet the great poet says he hopes to have published in the future a book of poetry "which will be longer and better than anything I have ever gotten out."

"I'm sticking pretty close these days, and not taking on as heavy a schedule as I used to."

He doesn't make so many lectures as before, but he'll take part Feb. 12 in "A Lincoln Portrait," an AAron Copeland performance on the Ed Sullivan television show.

McKinley Day Set

DAYTON (AP)—Featured speaker at the 42nd annual McKinley Day dinner here Jan. 30 will be Fred A. Seaton, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower, the Montgomery County Republican Executive Committee says.

Indian Arrow Root
FAMOUS KIDNEY AND LIVER MEDICINE
BY TAKING THIS COUPON TO DOWNTOWN DRUG STORES

We want every family to have a bottle of Indian ARROW ROOT while supply lasts. To prove the value of this wonderful product of Nature, we make this liberal offer. In the treatment of Stomach, Gall Bladder, Liver and Kidney trouble you will be delighted with its mild thorough results. Within eight hours it will usually drive poisons from the body that are black as ink. Rheumatism and Neuritis pains and aches will as a rule start to disappear the second or third day, as nature is given a chance to function and regular elimination is restored.

Swelling and stiffness usually require eight to ten doses. However, Bloating, Indigestion and Gas in the stomach are usually relieved with but one dose. Regulation of the bowels is most important and you will usually depend on full and free elimination within eight or ten hours after taking the first dose.

If you are bothered with Stubborn Cough or Cold, take one tablespoon full of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of water — add one teaspoon full of soda. Stir well. Within two to three doses your Cold will usually disappear.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL AND YOU'LL JUMP OUT OF BED IN THE MORNING RARIN' TO GO.

The liver should pour about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes mild, gentle Arrow Root to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." This preparation contains 12 of the best herbs grown in America, and it will work bile off of the liver black as ink. Get a bottle of Arrow Root today at Downtown Drug Stores.

For Constipation and Nervousness alone it is a God-send to any Man, Woman or Child who will take it. You can take one tablespoon of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of hot water and it will stop indigestion faster than add the Soda you can get in your stomach.

INDIAN ARROW ROOT is sold to you on an absolutely money back guarantee. If you are not satisfied with results, your purchase price will be refunded by your dealer.

If you buy a bottle of Indian Arrow Root for $1.50 Downtown Drug Stores will give you a full $1.50 bottle Absolutely Free.

Farmer-Botanist Develops Hobby Into Expert Status

Floyd Bartley Has Discovered Approximately Half Of Ohio's New Plant Life In Past 5 Years

By Dave Brown
Herald Staff Writer
(Second of a series)

In the first article, Floyd Bartley describes how his hobby of studying botany (the science of plant life) turned him into an expert. This article goes back and traces his interest to his accomplishments of present day.

A farmer who can give the correct Latin names for plant life—an odd combination for Floyd Bartley but one which has made him highly respected by all botanical scientists.

Bartley said he and his brother Jerry and his sister, Mrs. Bertha Drake, with whom he stays, always had loved the outdoors. Whenever they could the trio would dash out into the woods and not return until dark.

Born in Ross County in 1888, Bartley went to school in Hallsville. In 1908, the Bartleys moved to Pickaway County to take up farming.

During the 1920's, Bartley struck up an acquaintenceship with the late Leslie L. Pontious, who was assistant postmaster in Circleville. Bartley said that it was Pontious who really spurred on his interest in botany.

* * *

WHEN THEY were young, the Bartleys used to fill their mother's jars with plants. But when Floyd started to collect plants in earnest in the 1920's, he looked for a way to preserve them.

Edward S. Thomas, a friend, showed Bartley how to "press" plants. First, a felt pad is laid down. The plant is then placed between the folds of a paper and another felt pad is placed on top. All this is put between two wooden braces and tied around with a canvas strap.

(Bartley said he can "press" numerous plants while continuing to carry them around; he noted that they are carefully folded so as not to break any part of the plant. He said he usually collects five samples of each—one goes to the Smithsonion Institute, one to the New York Botanical Gardens, one to the state university where the plant is found; he keeps the rest.)

He said he has sent in more than 2,000 different varieties to the New York institution. In turn, the institution made Pontious and him collaborators, a high honor for a "layman".

As his collections grew, Bartley felt he had to know more about the subject of botany. So he went to Ohio State University for assistance. He read many books and studies until he was well versed in the science.

* * *

BARTLEY SAID, however, he has never been able to further his formal education. He has taken numerous students and clubs on field trips and noted that he has helped more than one student get a doctorate degree in botany.

Experts have said that Bartley knows the plant life of Ohio better than anyone in the state. He has been personally responsible for discovering more than half of the 100 new species found in the last five years, according to OSU records.

Bartley's "specialties" are ferns and mosses. He has interests in all fields of botany and related sciences and now is content to look for things not yet in any collection. He says he loves to find new varieties discovered for the first time in Ohio.

Although he has traveled far and wide on his field trips, Bartley says there are some startling finds right here in Pickaway County. He pointed out that he made 25 to 30 new state finds just along the railroad tracks near grain mills in Circleville.

Speaking of the Circleville area, Bartley said that some of the earliest plant life in existence can be found in the "Kibler Bog", south of the General Electric plant on E. Ohio St. This is now located on a farm and Bartley said that unless something is done to protect it the plant life will disappear before too long.

* * *

FOR ALL his discoveries, Bartley has never had one named after him. He said the vogue of naming discoveries after their finders has gone out of style.

Bartley has been honored by the Science Society and many individuals. He said that he has gained a lot of satisfaction from his hobby—"there's no dollars or cents in it but I've made a lot of friends all over the country."

Among the organizations to which Bartley belongs are: the Brooks Bird Club in West Virginia, which boasts a membership of nationally known people; the Wheaton Bird Club of Ohio; the Ohio Academy of Science; and the Southern Appalachian Botanical Club.

One of the more pleasant projects Bartley now carries on is the exchange of plants with people in other parts of the country. His home is full of specimens from various parts of the U. S.

Split-Project Plan Urged In State Building Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction today proposed a split-project plan on state construction to fit its program for needed buildings into the maximum 15 million dollars which will be available this year.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, director, told legislative leaders that by deferring portions of his 22¼-million-dollar high-priority program until 1957 he could tailor the 1956 program to the available funds. The remainder of the projects started in 1956 would have top priority for 1957, he said.

Porterfield's priority listing of projects with the amounts designated for this year and for 1957 includes:

2. Columbus psychiatric treatment institutions for delinquent children: 1,100,000 and 400,000.
3. New medium security institution at Lebanon, as first step of southern Ohio reformatory, 3,900,000 all in 1956.
4. Columbus State School: 900,000 and 1,400,000.
5. Apple Creek State Hospital: 850,000 and 500,000.
6. Hawthornden State Hospital: 1,085,000 and 500,000.
7. Cleveland State Hospital: 400,000 and 350,000.
8. Cleveland Receiving Hospital: 700,000 all in 1956.
9. Dayton State Hospital: 750,000 and 1,000,000.
10. Toledo State Hospital: 500,000 in 1956.
11. Tiffin State Hospital: 400,000 and 350,000.
12. Gallipolis State Institute: 400,000 and 350,000.
13. Cambridge State Hospital: 400,000 and 350,000.
14. Medical and surgical unit for Columbus institutions: 400,000 and 350,000.
15. Orient State Institute: 750,000 and 750,000.
16. Columbus State Hospital: 400,000 and 350,000.
17. Marion Correctional Institution: 400,000 all in 1956.

A few hours earlier, Gov. Frank J. Lausche said legislative leaders favor issuance during the Jan. 16 special session of the full 30 million dollars' worth of bonds authorized for 1956. Half the 30 millions would go for school, university and state office construction.

100-Pound Pig Found In School

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When the custodian at Minerva High School went to work he found a 100-pound pig trotting around in the school cafeteria. An investigation showed the pig either had fallen or been pushed through a window which had been opened. It was turned loose in hope its owner would find it.

Sam Rayburn Hailed On 74th Birthday

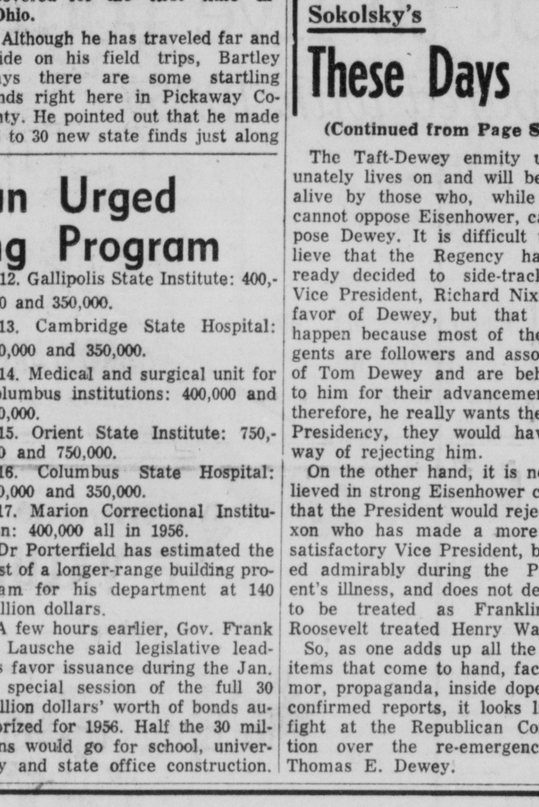

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) turned 74 today, looking and acting younger than many colleagues much his junior.

Wires and telephone calls reached his capitol office congratulating him. He has served as speaker longer than any other person in history—11 years, 3 months and 20 days.

The three great contests between Rome and Carthage for supremacy in the Mediterranean were known as the Punic wars.

Do You Know Your Social Security Law?

BY ROSE FORQUER
Social Security
Field Representative

The months immediately ahead are of special significance to self-employed farmers, and all others who work for themselves in some kind of agricultural enterprise.

It is possible for them to become insured under the social security law after they have had credit for net earnings of at least $400 in both calendar years 1955 and 1956. This could be as early as April 1956.

Older farmers—those now 65 or over, and those who will have reached 65 at that time—can retire in April 1956 or later and start getting monthly old-age insurance payments if they meet the earnings requirement stated above.

Other farmers, regardless of age, will acquire family protection under social security on the first of April provided they meet the same earnings requirement. If they should die at that time their dependents would become entitled to monthly survivors insurance benefit checks.

IT IS WELL to bear in mind that BECOMING insured does not mean that all persons will REMAIN insured. Those under age 65 and alive after March 1956 will need additional work to retain an insured status. I want to point out also that being insured has nothing to do with the AMOUNT of benefit payments.

Payments to a self-employed farmer and his family or to his surviving dependents will be based on his average earnings. His own monthly benefit in retirement could be as little as $30 or as much as $108.50; total monthly payments to his family would range from $45 to $200. The AMOUNT of the benefit depends upon the farmer's average net earnings in years after 1954.

Today, I have discussed the protection under the old-age and survivors insurance program which so many farm people will have acquired by mid-1956. In my next article I shall explain the obligations that go along with this protection—the responsibilities which must be met by self-employed farmers after the turn of the year.

(Self-employed farmers should report their 1955 net income for social security credit and pay the self-employment tax not later than April 15, 1956. Watch for a full explanation of these reporting requirements in a later installment of this series.)

Sokolsky's

The Taft-Dewey enmity unfortunately lives on and will be kept alive by those who, while they cannot oppose Eisenhower, can oppose Dewey. It is difficult to believe that the Regency has already decided to side-track the Vice President, Richard Nixon, in favor of Dewey, but that could happen because most of the Regents are followers and associates of Tom Dewey and are beholden to him for their advancement. If, therefore, he really wants the Vice Presidency, they would have no way of rejecting him.

On the other hand, it is not believed in strong Eisenhower circles that the President would reject Nixon who has made a more than satisfactory Vice President, behaved admirably during the President's illness, and does not deserve to be treated as Franklin D. Roosevelt treated Henry Wallace.

So, as one adds up all the little items that come to hand, fact, rumor, propaganda, inside dope, unconfirmed reports, it looks like a fight at the Republican Convention over the re-emergence of Thomas E. Dewey.

Plans Studied For District's Lily Parades

Plans for the annual Easter Lily Parades, conducted by the Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, were discussed this week when the organization held its regular monthly meeting.

Coin containers will be released by the group about March 10 to help gather funds in the society's annual campaign, a long established effort which makes a number of vital services possble. The containers will be placed in business establishments throughout the district.

The Easter Lily Parades will be held in local communities on March 24.

Several new requests for aid were received by the society at the recent meeting of its leaders. Among the requests were sevral for eye examinations and glasses for county school children who have serious eye defects.

AMONG members at the recent meeting were:

The Rev. Fred Ketner, president of the society; Mrs. Clark Alexander; Mrs. Edward Bost; Mrs. Charles Walker; Mrs. Robert Pickens, Pickaway County health nurse; Mrs. Mae Groome, city of Circleville health nurse, and the Rev. James B. Recob.

AMONG members at the recent meeting were:

The Rev. Fred Ketner, president of the society; Mrs. Clark Alexander; Mrs. Edward Bost; Mrs. Charles Walker; Mrs. Robert Pickens, Pickaway County health nurse; Mrs. Mae Groome, city of Circleville health nurse, and the Rev. James B. Recob.

A whip in a legislative body is a member charged with the task of rounding up the members of his party and getting them to vote on bills in which the party has a special interest.

Sokolsky's These Days

The Taft-Dewey enmity unfortunately lives on and will be kept alive by those who, while they cannot oppose Eisenhower, can oppose Dewey. It is difficult to believe that the Regency has already decided to side-track the Vice President, Richard Nixon, in favor of Dewey, but that could happen because most of the Regents are followers and associates of Tom Dewey and are beholden to him for their advancement. If, therefore, he really wants the Vice Presidency, they would have no way of rejecting him.

On the other hand, it is not believed in strong Eisenhower circles that the President would reject Nixon who has made a more than satisfactory Vice President, behaved admirably during the President's illness, and does not deserve to be treated as Franklin D. Roosevelt treated Henry Wallace.

So, as one adds up all the little items that come to hand, fact, rumor, propaganda, inside dope, unconfirmed reports, it looks like a fight at the Republican Convention over the re-emergence of Thomas E. Dewey.

Men With Troubles

Two local members of the Honorary Order of Weary Husbands were swapping sympathies on their mother-in-law problems the other day at the corner of Court and Franklin.

In each case, it was alleged, the wife's mother refused to be in a hurry about going back home after the holidays. The two victims were exchanging pet ideas on how to cool off the holiday season welcome.

One said he tried, without noteworthy success, to cut down on

"I don't bring anything home any more," he sighed, "but it doesn't do much good. We've been eating out of the refrigerator since New Year's but she claims she is still waiting for a break in the weather."

His companion had a stranger formula. He said he "just acted as though all the Christmas expenses had gone to my head." He explained he went around the house acting as though he had flipped his lid.

Which, presumably, would include jumping around and barking in the living room.

Yuletide Hazards

Now it can be told. One of the boys who was going around collecting for a toy tour just before Christmas one evening was suspected of being a potential prowler.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's fourth State of the Union message to Congress reflects more than the temper of the times.

It was a calm, restrained message at a time when on the surface the world is calm. While the war with communism continues unabated, it is being fought without guns rght now. There were no firecrackers in the message.

Three years of responsibility for running the government and leading the anti-Communist world, judging from the message, have had a sobering effect on the Eisenhower administration.

This message was quite different from the one Eisenhower delivered to Congress in 1953, just after he had taken office and returned from his dramatic post-election trip to Korea, where the war was still on.

In that meisage, his first, Eisenhower announced he was withdrawing the 7th Fleet from its protective role around Formosa. This was the famous "unleashing" of Chiang Kai-shek.

It was a piece of theatricalism which Eisenhower has probably regretted. Chiang couldn't have hit the mainland Red Chinese without big American help.

He never got the help. Instead, he's been bottled up to keep him from starting a war which he couldn't finish and which would involve the United States on the mainland.

If Eisenhower hoped to scare the Red Chinese by "unleashing" Chiang, they did not show it. But he startled, if he didn't scare, American allies who could foresee themselves involved on the mainland too.

The Eisenhower administration, through Secretary of State Dulles, gave the Allies some bad hours later also. That was by his talk of "massive retaliation" which was never inflicted even when North Indochina fell.

There were no theatrcalisms in Eisenhower's message this year. The Allies have shown the most confidence in American leadership when it stays calm. Eisenhower spoke calmly of Soviet intentions and the need to stay armed.

The Democrats did to this message what they have done to some of Eisenhower's other messages: they mocked it as being simply an extension of the New Deal and "Far Deal."

But they know, as Eisenhower does, no party could hope to keep office if it sought to eliminate, or failed to extend to some degree, the basic social programs of the past 20 years. And this is an election year.

All the domestic parts of Eisenhower's message prove is that the Democrats and Republicans are close together. The Democrats themselves are offering only some extensions of their old program. They haven't offered anything startling either.

'Horse' Ameche Wins Berth On All-Pro Team

Baltimore Star Is Lone Rookie To Gain Rating On Annual Honor '11'

NEW YORK (AP) — Alan (The Horse) Ameche, bull-driving fullback of the Baltimore Colts, was the only rookie named to the Associated Press 1955 all-pro team which included three members each from the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns and Los Angeles western division titleholders.

Ameche, the league's ball carrying champion received 26 of the 40 votes cast in the annual balloting by Associated Press member paper football writers and AP staff men. The former University of Wisconsin powerhouse earned the nomination by rolling up 961 yards in his first season.

Although they finished a half game behind the Rams for divisional honors, the Chicago Bears placed four players on the 22-man two platoon squad. They included end Harlon Hill, guard Stan Jones and tackle Bill Wightkin on the offensive eleven and middle guard Bill George on the defensive team. Pittsburgh was the only team not represented on either squad.

Otto Graham, who came out of retirement to lead the Browns to their second straight championship, won the quarterback post in a romp, getting 28 votes to eight for Green Bay's Tobin Rote. It was the sixth time on the all-pro team for the 33-year-old former Northwestern great.

Rams named were guard Duane Putnam on the attacking unit, end Andy Robustelli and halfback Willard Sherman on the defensive group.

The defensive team consists of ends Gene Brito of Washington and Robustelli, tackles Art Donovan of Baltimore and Bob Toneff of San Francisco, middle guard George, linebackers Joe Schmidt of Detroit and Roger Zatkoff of Green Bay, backs Bob Dillon of Green Bay and Sherman and safetymen Jack Christiansen of Detroit and Emlen Tunnell of the Giants.

Hogan Defeat Labeled Big Upset Of '55

CHICAGO (AP)—The mythical year the Yankees lost the pennant had nothing on 1955 when it came to surprising sports experts. Last year was the year Ben Hogan, Notre Dame, the Yankees and the Bears all were beaten.

Those four events were the upsets singled out by 179 sports writers in the Associated Press year-end poll with Jack Fleck's triumph over Hogan in the playoff for the National Open golf championship getting the nod as the "upset of the year."

Fleck was a "dark horse" in the open if there ever was one. A 32-year-old operator of courses at Davenport, Iowa, Jack never had finished higher than eighth in a major tournament.

He shot a spectacular birdie on the 72nd hole to tie Hogan. Fleck the next day beat Hogan by three strokes in the 18-hole playoff.

Fleck's victory was picked as the "upset of the year" by 41 of the writers and Southern California's football victory over Notre Dame by 37.

Notre Dame had won eight out of nine games going into that final contest of the season. Southern California had lost four. But the Trojans won by a decisive 42-20.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' triumph over the Yankees, after losing the first two games, took third place in the upset balloting. Then came the Chicago Cardinals 54-14 shellacking of the Bears, a setback that cost the Bears a chance for the National Football League's western division title.

Pistons Storming West Pro Division

The Pistons' latest splurge has carried them to victory in eight of their last nine games, including a 92-81 triumph over the Philadelphia Warriors in the first part of a doubleheader last night.

The triumph boosted Fort Wayne's margin over Rochester to four games. The Boston Celtics, beaten the two previous nights by New York, rebounded for a 92-87 decision over the Knicks.

CHS Five Seeking First SCOL Victory

Looking for their first victory in South Central Ohio League competition, Circleville's Tigers take on a fast moving Hillsboro quintet.

The Indians gave front running Wilmington a real scare last Tuesday before finally losing 48-41. It was the lowest score Wilmington has been held to in SCOL competition.

Tonight's action will not only be confined to the varsity teams. A whale of a game is in store in the reserve contest; Circleville's Kittens have yet to be beaten while Hillsboro's reserves dropped their first of the year to Wilmington.

* * *

CHS COACH Red Courtney's crew goes into tonight's fray with the leading scorer in the SCOL, Jim McConnell. Jarrin' Jim has swished in 155 points in seven games. His closest competition comes from Wilmington's Rickie Roberts who has 140 in eight games; Roberts was held to only three points against Hillsboro.

CHS had only one loss prior to this week. Then they went to Greenfield last Tuesday and were outlasted 57-51 on the Tigers' small court. Circleville's only two losses so far have been to SCOL teams.

TEAM	SCOL	ALL
Wilmington	3-0	6-2
Washington C. H.	2-1	5-2
Greenfield	1-2	6-3
Hillsboro	1-2	1-4
Circleville	0-2	5-2

Here are the top 10 scorers:

PLAYER	G	F	Pts.
McConnell (C)	57	41	155
Roberts (W)	52	36	140
Knowles (G)	47	37	131

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dayton's third-ranked Flyers have themselves a 10-game winning streak at the moment, but more important, seven-foot Bill Uhl has shed his sleeping giant role and matured into a full-fledged Goliath in college basketball.

Time was when the big fellow wasn't much more use than a five-foot guy standing on a step ladder. He had height but couldn't move.

But Thursday night Big Bill moved with relative ease as the unbeaten Flyers ran away from Duquesne 68-52. Uhl had 23 points, all but three from the field, and grabbed 24 rebounds.

All was not butter and honey among the top-ranked teams Thursday night. Maryland, playing possession ball, upset seventh-ranked George Washington 66-44. And lightly regarded Spring Hill of Mobile, Ala., tumbled previously undefeated and 12th-ranked Memphis State 69-65 with a fantastic closing drive in the title game of the Senior Bowl Tournament at Mobile.

George Washington, which hadn't been choked off with less than 50 points since 1950, couldn't get the ball away from Maryland. The Terps just played catch and dared the Colonials, who had averaged 82 points a game in building a 9-1 record.

State attempted a freeze with a 2-point lead and less than 3 minutes left, but Spring Hill twice stole the ball and Ed Tibbets pumped in the clincher from under the basket with 40 seconds remaining. Gene McGuire, who scored the tying points, was high with 27.

Elsewhere, Vince Yockel scored 30 points as Clemson defeated Miami (Fla.) 98-96 in the Senior Bowl consolation game. Western Kentucky wiped out a 3-point deficit and Ohio Xavier's unbeaten record 73-72 with Montroe Holland sinking two free throws for the clincher with less than 2 minutes left to edge the Ohioans. And tall, talented St. Louis breezed past Loyola of New Orleans 10-79.

Brown's Team Favorite In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Coaches Buddy Parker of the North and Paul Brown of the South today decided which of their players will have the job of moving the ball in tomorrow's Senior Bowl game. The South is a slight favorite.

Parker, coach of the pro Detroit Lions, said he will alternate Wisconsin's Jim Haluska and Iowa's Jerry Reichow at quarterback. Each accounted for more than 1,000 yards this season in the Big Ten, principally on passes.

The South also has fine tossers in Bob Hardy of Kentucky and George Herring of Mississippi Southern. Hardy will probably do most of the signal calling.

Brown, coach of the pro champion Cleveland Browns, named four running backs. Alternating at left half will be Don McIlhenny of SMU and Bob James of Auburn.

Ed Vereb of Maryland will run out of the other halfback slot, and Auburn's Joe Childress will be the fullback.

For the North, Lou Baldacci of Michigan and Bob Moss of West Virginia will be called on for the wide plays. Fullback Bill Murakowski of Purdue was picked for the power bursts.

The kickoff is 2:30 p. m. EST. Mutual Broadcasting System will broadcast the game. There will be no television.

Parseghian Says He's Not Superstitious

At 32, he is the youngest grid boss in the Big Ten. He comes from Miami of Ohio, a school that has spawned such other big timers as Woody Hayes, Sid Gilman and Stu Holcomb, Northwestern's new athletic director.

"I'm not really," he said in an interview. "Well, what if I have worn the same brown suit and tie every football Saturday? The boys threw me bodily in a shower once and I thought the suit would be wrecked. But it came out all right.

"This brown one is getting pretty threadbare in spots. Maybe I'll send it to Miami and have the school retire it."

He also refused to have his picture printed in the school's football brochure after 1951, his first as coach when Miami won only five of its nine games.

Chet Forte, Hackensack, N. J., junior, is Columbia's key basketball player on offense. Though only 5 feet 9½ he led the Ivy League scorers last season.

DeMolay Knocked Out Of First Place Tie With Pickaway Dairy

Pickaway Dairy ruled the roost in the Independent Basketball League following Thursday night's play at the Coliseum. They and DeMolay had been tied.

Amanda, which has been improving steadily, knocked off defending champion DeMolay 55 to 43. Meanwhile, Pickaway Dairy thumped a determined Stoutsville quintet 59 to 49. In the third game, Majority DeMolay swept by the winless Jaycees 83-36.

D. Rhoades with 14 points and Jack Hutchinson with 12 were tops for the losers. The game was not actually decided until the final frame; Stoutsville really held the lead at the end of the first and third periods.

* * *

AMANDA TOOK a first period lead and was never headed in its victory over DeMolay. Francis and Hinton each had 16 points for the winning cause. Pete Martin, former Scioto Township star, was tops for the losers with 12 points.

Majority DeMolay ran wild over the Jaycees. Babe Rhoades had 18 points for the winners, who had three other players scoring in the double figures. Dale Rogers' 15 points topped the Jaycees.

Los Angeles Open Getting Underway

The purse is $30,000 and the winner will collect $6,000.

Julius Boros, the top money maker of 1955; Doug Ford, the PGA champion, Gene Littler, last year's local champion, and Jack Fleck, winner of the United States Open, are listed in the field teeing off on the par 71 course.

To this list must be added Cary Middlecoff, the masters champion, Tommy Bolt, Lloyd Mangrum, Ben Hogan and Mike Souchak.

Greenberg, Cronn May Gain Laurels

NEW YORK (AP)—It's voting time again for baseball's Hall of Fame and it may be that Hank Greenberg and Joe Cronin this year will make the coveted list.

Last year, Greenberg and Cronin ranked 5th and 6th in the voting by 10-year members of the baseball writers' assn. Greenberg was 32 votes shy of the required 180. Cronin was named on 135.

NEW YORK (AP)—Eduardo Lausse the colorful middleweight from Artentina, is a 3-1 favorite over Milo Savage of Salt Lake City tonight in Madison Square Garden.

The next boxing date in the Garden is Feb. 3, with the ice show taking over in the interval. However, unless the Boxing Guild of New York can patch up its trouble with the New York State Athletic Commission, the Garden may be dark for many months. NBC will telecast at 10 p. m. EST.

Our Girls and Boys IN SERVICE

Nolan E. Boyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boyer of Tarlton, has completed nine weeks of intensive Navy training as a seaman apprentice.

Following a 14-day leave period, he has been ordered to report to the USS Bamberg County for active service.

Prior to entering the Navy, Boyer attended Saltcreek High School. He entered service last August.

From Camp Gordon, Ga., comes the news that Pvt. Roger E. Bennington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Bennington of Circleville, has been graduated from the communications specialist school, one of the many courses offered at the Army's Southeastern Signal School.

The eight-weeks course trains personnel to receive and process messages for distribution by teletype or other means of communication.

'Horse' Ameche Wins Berth On All-Pro Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Alan (The Horse) Ameche, bull-driving fullback of the Baltimore Colts, was the only rookie named to the Associated Press 1955 all-pro team which included three members each from the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns and Los Angeles western division titleholders.

Ameche, the league's ball carrying champion received 26 of the 40 votes cast in the annual balloting by Associated Press member paper football writers and AP staff men. The former University of Wisconsin powerhouse earned the nomination by rolling up 961 yards in his first season.

Although they finished a half game behind the Rams for divisional honors, the Chicago Bears placed four players on the 22-man two platoon squad. They included end Harlon Hill, guard Stan Jones and tackle Bill Wightkin on the offensive eleven and middle guard Bill George on the defensive team. Pittsburgh was the only team not represented on either squad.

Otto Graham, who came out of retirement to lead the Browns to their second straight championship, won the quarterback post in a romp, getting 28 votes to eight for Green Bay's Tobin Rote. It was the sixth time on the all-pro team for the 33-year-old former Northwestern great.

Rams named were guard Duane Putnam on the attacking unit, end Andy Robustelli and halfback Willard Sherman on the defensive group.

Here's how the offensive eleven shapes up:

The defensive team consists of ends Gene Brito of Washington and Robustelli, tackles Art Donovan of Baltimore and Bob Toneff of San Francisco, middle guard George, linebackers Joe Schmidt of Detroit and Roger Zatkoff of Green Bay, backs Bob Dillon of Green Bay and Sherman and safetymen Jack Christiansen of Detroit and Emlen Tunnell of the Giants.

Hogan Defeat Labeled Big Upset Of '55

CHICAGO (AP)—The mythical year the Yankees lost the pennant had nothing on 1955 when it came to surprising sports experts. Last year was the year Ben Hogan, Notre Dame, the Yankees and the Bears all were beaten.

Those four events were the upsets singled out by 179 sports writers in the Associated Press year-end poll with Jack Fleck's triumph over Hogan in the playoff for the National Open golf championship getting the nod as the "upset of the year."

Fleck was a "dark horse" in the open if there ever was one. A 32-year-old operator of courses at Davenport, Iowa, Jack never had finished higher than eighth in a major tournament.

He shot a spectacular birdie on the 72nd hole to tie Hogan. Fleck the next day beat Hogan by three strokes in the 18-hole playoff.

Fleck's victory was picked as the "upset of the year" by 41 of the writers and Southern California's football victory over Notre Dame by 37.

Notre Dame had won eight out of nine games going into that final contest of the season. Southern California had lost four. But the Trojans won by a decisive 42-20.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' triumph over the Yankees, after losing the first two games, took third place in the upset balloting. Then came the Chicago Cardinals 54-14 shellacking of the Bears, a setback that cost the Bears a chance for the National Football League's western division title.

Pistons Storming West Pro Division

The Pistons' latest splurge has carried them to victory in eight of their last nine games, including a 92-81 triumph over the Philadelphia Warriors in the first part of a doubleheader last night.

The triumph boosted Fort Wayne's margin over Rochester to four games. The Boston Celtics, beaten the two previous nights by New York, rebounded for a 92-87 decision over the Knicks.

CHS Five Seeking First SCOL Victory

Looking for their first victory in South Central Ohio League competition, Circleville's Tigers take on a fast moving Hillsboro quintet.

The Indians gave front running Wilmington a real scare last Tuesday before finally losing 48-41. It was the lowest score Wilmington has been held to in SCOL competition.

Tonight's action will not only be confined to the varsity teams. A whale of a game is in store in the reserve contest; Circleville's Kittens have yet to be beaten while Hillsboro's reserves dropped their first of the year to Wilmington.

* * *

CHS COACH Red Courtney's crew goes into tonight's fray with the leading scorer in the SCOL, Jim McConnell. Jarrin' Jim has swished in 155 points in seven games. His closest competition comes from Wilmington's Rickie Roberts who has 140 in eight games; Roberts was held to only three points against Hillsboro.

CHS had only one loss prior to this week. Then they went to Greenfield last Tuesday and were outlasted 57-51 on the Tigers' small court. Circleville's only two losses so far have been to SCOL teams.

The Roundtowner's first defeat was at the hands, legs, elbows and feet of Washington C. H. 54-43. This same Blue Lion quintet edged out Hillsboro four days later by a 55-49 score.

Here are the adjusted standings in the SCOL as of today:

TEAM	SCOL	ALL
Wilmington	3-0	6-2
Washington C. H.	2-1	5-2
Greenfield	1-2	6-3
Hillsboro	1-2	1-4
Circleville	0-2	5-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dayton's third-ranked Flyers have themselves a 10-game winning streak at the moment, but more important, seven-foot Bill Uhl has shed his sleeping giant role and matured into a full-fledged Goliath in college basketball.

Time was when the big fellow wasn't much more use than a five-foot guy standing on a step ladder. He had height but couldn't move.

But Thursday night Big Bill moved with relative ease as the unbeaten Flyers ran away from Duquesne 68-52. Uhl had 23 points, all but three from the field, and grabbed 24 rebounds.

All was not butter and honey among the top-ranked teams Thursday night. Maryland, playing possession ball, upset seventh-ranked George Washington 66-44. And lightly regarded Spring Hill of Moble, Ala., tumbled previously undefeated and 12th-ranked Memphis State 69-65 with a fantastic closing drive in the title game of the Senior Bowl Tournament at Mobile.

George Washington, which hadn't been choked off with less than 50 points since 1950, couldn't get the ball away from Maryland. The Terps just played catch and dared the Colonials, who had averaged 82 points a game in building a 9-1 record.

State attempted a freeze with a 2-point lead and less than 3 minutes left, but Spring Hill twice stole the ball and Ed Tibbets pumped in the clincher from under the basket with 40 seconds remaining. Gene McGuire, who scored the tying points, was high with 27.

Elsewhere, Vince Yockel scored 30 points as Clemson defeated Miami (Fla.) 98-96 in the Senior Bowl consolation game. Western Kentucky wiped out a 3-point deficit and Ohio Xavier's unbeaten record 73-72 with Montroe Holland sinking two free throws for the clincher with less than 2 minutes left to edge the Ohioans. And tall, talented St. Louis breezed past Loyola of New Orleans 10-79.

Brown's Team Favorite In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Coaches Buddy Parker of the North and Paul Brown of the South today decided which of their players will have the job of moving the ball in tomorrow's Senior Bowl game. The South is a slight favorite.

The coaches also named tough defenses with the accent on weight.

Brown, coach of the pro champion Cleveland Browns, named four running backs. Alternating at left half will be Don McIlhenny of SMU and Bob James of Auburn.

Ed Vereb of Maryland will run out of the other halfback slot, and Auburn's Joe Childress will be the fullback.

For the North, Lou Baldacci of Michigan and Bob Moss of West Virginia will be called on for the wide plays. Fullback Bill Murakowski of Purdue was picked for the power bursts.

The kickoff is 2:30 p. m. EST. Mutual Broadcasting System will broadcast the game. There will be no television.

Parseghian Says He's Not Superstitious

Get as many good players as possible to enroll at Northwestern; teach them the split-T and spin-T offenses; keep being superstitious.

At 32, he is the youngest grid boss in the Big Ten. He comes from Miami of Ohio, a school that has spawned such other big timers as Woody Hayes, Sid Gilman and Stu Holcomb, Northwestern's new athletic director.

Parseghian doesn't like to be called superstitious.

"I'm not really," he said in an interview. "Well, what if I have worn the same brown suit and tie every football Saturday? The boys threw me bodily in a shower once and I thought the suit would be wrecked. But it came out all right.

"This brown one is getting pretty threadbare in spots. Maybe I'll send it to Miami and have the school retire it."

Parseghian is sure that wearing the garment helped him compile a 39-6-1 record in five seasons at the Ohio school.

He also refused to have his picture printed in the school's football brochure after 1951, his first as coach when Miami won only five of its nine games.

The picture was dropped out in 1952, and his teams began winning. But he says he's not superstitious.

Chet Forte, Hackensack, N. J., junior, is Columbia's key basketball player on offense. Though only 5 feet 9½ he led the Ivy League scorers last season.

DeMolay Knocked Out Of First Place Tie With Pickaway Dairy

Pickaway Dairy ruled the roost in the Independent Basketball League following Thursday night's play at the Coliseum. They and DeMolay had been tied.

Amanda, which has been improving steadily, knocked off defending champion DeMolay 55 to 43. Meanwhile, Pickaway Dairy thumped a determined Stoutsville quintet 59 to 49. In the third game, Majority DeMolay swept by the winless Jaycees 83-36.

D. Rhoades with 14 points and Jack Hutchinson with 12 were tops for the losers. The game was not actually decided until the final frame; Stoutsville really held the lead at the end of the first and third periods.

* * *

AMANDA TOOK a first period lead and was never headed in its victory over DeMolay. Francis and Hinton each had 16 points for the winning cause. Pete Martin, former Scioto Township star, was tops for the losers with 12 points.

Majority DeMolay ran wild over the Jaycees. Babe Rhoades had 18 points for the winners, who had three other players scoring in the double figures. Dale Rogers' 15 points topped the Jaycees.

Los Angeles Open Getting Underway

The purse is $30,000 and the winner will collect $6,000.

Julius Boros, the top money maker of 1955; Doug Ford, the PGA champion, Gene Littler, last year's local champion, and Jack Fleck, winner of the United States Open, are listed in the field teeing off on the par 71 course.

To this list must be added Cary Middlecoff, the masters champion, Tommy Bolt, Lloyd Mangrum, Ben Hogan and Mike Souchak.

Greenberg, Cronn May Gain Laurels

NEW YORK (AP)—It's voting time again for baseball's Hall of Fame and it may be that Hank Greenberg and Joe Cronin this year will make the coveted list.

Last year, Greenberg and Cronin ranked 5th and 6th in the voting by 10-year members of the baseball writers' assn. Greenberg was 32 votes shy of the required 180. Cronin was named on 135.

The deadline for voting this year is Jan. 23.

Lausse Favored To Defeat Savage

The next boxing date in the Garden is Feb. 3, with the ice show taking over in the interval. However, unless the Boxing Guild of New York can patch up its trouble with the New York State Athletic Commission, the Garden may be dark for many months. NBC will telecast at 10 p. m. EST.

Our Girls and Boys IN SERVICE

Nolan E. Boyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boyer of Tarlton, has completed nine weeks of intensive Navy training as a seaman apprentice.

Advanced from the rank of seaman recruit, Boyer is now trained in many vital phases of Navy gunnery, communications, seamanship and firefighting.

Following a 14-day leave period, he has been ordered to report to the USS Bamberg County for active service.

Prior to entering the Navy, Boyer attended Saltcreek High School. He entered service last August.

From Camp Gordon, Ga., comes the news that Pvt. Roger E. Bennington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Bennington of Circleville, has been graduated from the communications specialist school, one of the many courses offered at the Army's Southeastern Signal School.

The eight-weeks course trains personnel to receive and process messages for distribution by teletype or other means of communication.

Mediator Called

COLUMBUS (AP)—A U. S. mediator today will enter the contract dispute between union bus drivers and the City Transit Co. here. The union has threatened to strike Jan. 15 if a new contract is not approved.

A. W. Marion Hurt

COLUMBUS (AP)—A. W. Marion, Ohio director of natural resources, suffered a wrenched knee Wednesday when knocked to the ground by a 6-month-old bull at nearby Pickerington.

It looks high priced

THE NEW BEL AIR SPORT COUPE
Who wouldn't mistake this new Chevrolet for a high-priced car!
But, even beyond the costly appearance of its beautiful Body by Fisher, Chevy gives the high-priced cars a run for their money. It brings you lightning acceleration for safer passing. Horsepower ranges up to 205! All engines now have hydraulic-hushed valve lifters.
Besides, you get safety door latches in all models. You can also have seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost.
Come highway-test a Chevrolet!

Trucking Firm Linked To Big Damage Claim

BALTIMORE, Ohio (AP)—Daniels Motor Freight, Inc., of Warren, Ohio, is one of three defendants named in a $500,000 damage suit stemming from an accident in which five persons were killed when a runaway tractor-trailer struck two cars.

The suit was filed in federal court yesterday by attorneys for Mrs. Willa Fearer, 37 - year - old widow of Clifford P. Fearer, and her three children. Fearer was one of five killed when the truck ran down Big Savage Mountain at Lavale, west of Cumberland, last Oct. 19.

The suit names Ray Wells, the truck owner, and Paul S. Myer Jr., the truck driver, both of Rt. 2, Dover, Pa., and Daniels Motor Freight, which had leased the truck from Wells.

It contends the tractor-trailer was in "dangerous and defective condition" when Wells leased it to Daniels and that Wells should have known its condition.

About one billion pounds of coffee are consumed annually in the United States.

Trucking Firm Linked To Big Damage Claim

BALTIMORE, Ohio (AP)—Daniels Motor Freight, Inc., of Warren, Ohio, is one of three defendants named in a $500,000 damage suit stemming from an accident in which five persons were killed when a runaway tractor-trailer struck two cars.

The suit was filed in federal court yesterday by attorneys for Mrs. Willa Fearer, 37 - year - old widow of Clifford P. Fearer, and her three children. Fearer was one of five killed when the truck ran down Big Savage Mountain at Lavale, west of Cumberland, last Oct. 19.

The suit names Ray Wells, the truck owner, and Paul S. Myer Jr., the truck driver, both of Rt. 2, Dover, Pa., and Daniels Motor Freight, which had leased the truck from Wells.

It contends the tractor-trailer was in "dangerous and defective condition" when Wells leased it to Daniels and that Wells should have known its condition.

About one billion pounds of coffee are consumed annually in the United States.

New Prosperity Nets Problem For Industry

Windshield Wipers Now Require More Delicate Engineering

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — All this prosperity every one is talking about means that America keeps hoisting its standard of living with new gadgets and more and better goods.

And each time it does, seems like, it creates a new problem.

Jet planes go faster. But they call for new techniques in metal-working and new alloys—or they melt.

Wrap-around windshiells are popular with motorists — except when it rains. Then the old style windshield wiper finds the going rough around the curves. So pronation—the word golfer Ben Hogan says explains how he corrected his hook—is applied to a wiper using a kind of wrist and elbow motion.

Smaller homes save steps and expense — but the generously scaled furniture you inherited won't fit in them. New furniture fashions are born — convertible beds stand in living rooms, transistors replace radio tubes and printed electrical circuits replace the maze of wires.

Party telephone lines used to serve, in their fashion. But so many Americans want to gab on the phones at once that scientists had to think up ways of carrying multiple conversations over the same cable.

New gadgets are so complex and skilled labor on assembly lines so expensive that industry is turning to still more complex gadgets to make the whole thing as automatic as possible.

As skills become more exacting and hiring of skill more costly, Americans turn to doing things themselves—only to find they need all kinds of things, whether paint rollers or power tools, to handle jobs the pioneers never even envisioned as part of life on the home front.

As Detroit stepped up the compression in auto engines, the gasoline refiners had to step up the octane rating to keep the family bus from knocking.

So the pronation wiper for wrap-around windshields shouldn't come as a surprise. Trico Products Corp. of Buffalo, N. Y., explains that the wiper arm is pivoted from a shaft having the usual motion on the flat, frontal section. Then a cam control rotates the blade arm so that it follows and hugs the curved part of the windshield. Normal top speed is 180 strokes a minute.

But nature creates problems, just as prosperity does. If the rain is specially heavy, the wiper can revert to old-style operation directly in front of the driver's eyes and be stepped up to 280 strokes a minute.

3 State Chiefs Schedule Parley

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Govs. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, Frank J. Lausche of Ohio and George Craig of Indiana will discuss plans for improving lock and dam 41 on the Ohio River at a meeting in Louisville Tuesday.

Chandler's office, in making the announcement, said the dam, at the river's falls at Louisville, has been termed a "bottleneck" to river transportation.

Highway Council Planning Major Thoroughfare Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway construction council today announced its decisions on a dozen proposals to change the state major thoroughfare system.

The net result was subtracting 19.28 miles from the system, which takes in about 6,200 miles of road. Some of the changes were proposed by the public, some by the state highway department.

Public hearings on the proposals were held in October to determine which roads should be part of the major thoroughfare system. Revenue from the state's one-half billion dollars in highway bonds can be used on these roads.

The council reviews its classification of roads every two years. Proposals and actions included:

The council removed Ohio 14 alternate from the system from U. S. 62 in Salem to U. S. 224 in Deerfield. And it added relocated Ohio 14 from Ohio 14A at Columbiana to U. S. 224 west of Canfield. The changes resulted as the relocation of Ohio 14.

The highway department and the public had asked adding U. S. 68 or U. S. 62 to the major thoroughfare system from Washington Courthouse to Ripley and the addition of either Ohio 74 or Ohio 125 from Cincinnati to either U. S. 68 or U. S. 62.

The council said that if both U. S. 68 and U. S. 62 are joined on a new highway on relocation from Ripley north to a point between Red Oak and Gooselick Pike, the new route would be added to the major thoroughfare system. It added "the development of the remainder of either U. S 68 or U. S. 62 north to Washington Courthouse is important to the economic development of this portion of the state and should be considered in future highway planning."

Then it decided to consider adding the sections to the major thoroughfare system only after a specific proposal for a relocated highway is submitted.

The highway department proposed making Ohio 199 a major thoroughfare from Fostoria to U. S. 20, rather than U. S. 23. The council approved adding that section of Ohio 199 and making U. S. 23 from Fostoria to U. S. 20 a secondary road. It also suggested the highway department consider relocating U. S. 23 over Ohio 199 and U. S. 20, as Ohio 199 is a straighter road.

Ohio Fuel Tells Of Increased Home Gas Heat

Seventy-eight percent of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company's customers now heat their homes with natural gas, as compared with only 11 percent 10 years ago. The estimate includes Pickaway County residents.

The figures were gven today by Allan W. Lundstrum of Columbus, Ohio Fuel president, in a letter to company employes.

Ohio Fuel's record, in providing gas heat for virtually all customers who want it, "is not commonplace," Lundstrum said.

"WE ARE serving our customers, vrtually without restrictions, because our parent company, Columbia Gas System, has done all the things that had to be done to get the gas," Lundstrum said. "Columbia contracted for an immense supply of gas in Louisiana and promoted the construction of a huge pipeline to deliver the gas into the system."

Since 1946 Ohio Fuel has spent $166 million for facilities to improve service and to store and deliver more gas. Additional millions will be spent in 1956, Lundstrum said.

"With Ohio Fuel borrowing more millions of dollars—to pay for facilities to serve our customers—our responsibilites become greater," Lundstrum said. "We must continue to operate with all effeciency, and get a fair price for the gas we sell."

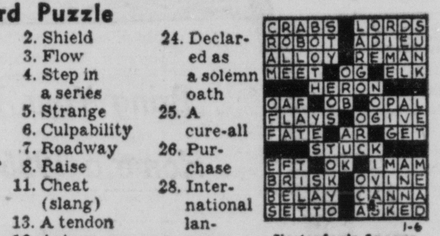

Berlin Visits Cut

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. authorities are discouraging visits to the Soviet sector of East Berlin except on regular guided tours conducted three times a week. The move is designed to prevent incidents.

New Prosperity Nets Problem For Industry

Windshield Wipers Now Require More Delicate Engineering

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — All this prosperity every one is talking about means that America keeps hoisting its standard of living with new gadgets and more and better goods.

And each time it does, seems like, it creates a new problem.

Jet planes go faster. But they call for new techniques in metalworking and new alloys—or they melt.

Wrap-around windshields are popular with motorists — except when it rains. Then the old style windshield wiper finds the going rough around the curves. So pronation—the word golfer Ben Hogan says explains how he corrected his hook—is applied to a wiper using a kind of wrist and elbow motion.

Smaller homes save steps and expense — but the generously scaled furniture you inherited won't fit in them. New furniture fashions are born — convertible beds stand in living rooms, transistors replace radio tubes and printed electrical circuits replace the maze of wires.

Party telephone lines used to serve, in their fashion. But so many Americans want to gab on the phones at once that scientists had to think up ways of carrying multiple conversations over the same cable.

New gadgets are so complex and skilled labor on assembly lines so expensive that industry is turning to still more complex gadgets to make the whole thing as automatic as possible.

As skills become more exacting and hiring of skill more costly, Americans turn to doing things themselves—only to find they need all kinds of things, whether paint rollers or power tools, to handle jobs the pioneers never even envisioned as part of life on the home front.

As Detroit stepped up the compression in auto engines, the gasoline refiners had to step up the octane rating to keep the family bus from knocking.

When Detroit poured out cars by the millions to make America prosperous, highway engineers had to think up turnpikes, freeways, clover-leaf exits to keep traffic from bogging down altogether.

The hardtop convertible has led, in the American way, to devices for sliding tops into rear compartments.

So the pronation wiper for wrap-around windshields shouldn't come as a surprise. Trico Products Corp. of Buffalo, N. Y., explains that the wiper arm is pivoted from a shaft having the usual motion on the flat, frontal section. Then a cam control rotates the blade arm so that it follows and hugs the curved part of the windshield. Normal top speed is 180 strokes a minute.

But nature creates problems, just as prosperity does. If the rain is specially heavy, the wiper can revert to old-style operation directly in front of the driver's eyes and be stepped up to 280 strokes a minute.

3 State Chiefs Schedule Parley

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Govs. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, Frank J. Lausche of Ohio and George Craig of Indiana will discuss plans for improving lock and dam 41 on the Ohio River at a meeting in Louisville Tuesday.

Chandler's office, in making the announcement, said the dam, at the river's falls at Louisville, has been termed a "bottleneck" to river transportation.

Highway Council Planning Major Thoroughfare Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway construction council today announced its decisions on a dozen proposals to change the state major thoroughfare system.

The net result was subtracting 19.28 miles from the system, which takes in about 6,200 miles of road. Some of the changes were proposed by the public, some by the state highway department.

Public hearings on the proposals were held in October to determine which roads should be part of the major thoroughfare system. Revenue from the state's one-half billion dollars in highway bonds can be used on these roads.

The council reviews its classification of roads every two years. Proposals and actions included:

The council removed Ohio 14 alternate from the system from U. S. 62 in Salem to U. S. 224 in Deerfield. And it added relocated Ohio 14 from Ohio 14A at Columbiana to U. S. 224 west of Canfield. The changes resulted as the relocation of Ohio 14.

The highway department and the public had asked adding U. S. 68 or U. S. 62 to the major thoroughfare system from Washington Courthouse to Ripley and the addition of either Ohio 74 or Ohio 125 from Cincinnati to either U. S. 68 or U. S. 62.

The council said that if both U. S. 68 and U. S. 62 are joined on a new highway on relocation from Ripley north to a point between Red Oak and Gooselick Pike, the new route would be added to the major thoroughfare system. It added "the development of the remainder of either U. S 68 or U. S. 62 north to Washington Courthouse is important to the economic development of this portion of the state and should be considered in future highway planning."

Then it decided to consider adding the sections to the major thoroughfare system only after a specific proposal for a relocated highway is submitted.

The highway department proposed making Ohio 199 a major thoroughfare from Fostoria to U. S. 20, rather than U. S. 23. The council approved adding that section of Ohio 199 and making U. S. 23 from Fostoria to U. S. 20 a secondary road. It also suggested the highway department consider relocating U. S. 23 over Ohio 199 and U. S. 20, as Ohio 199 is a straighter road.

Ohio Fuel Tells Of Increased Home Gas Heat

Seventy-eight percent of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company's customers now heat their homes with natural gas, as compared with only 11 percent 10 years ago. The estimate includes Pickaway County residents.

The figures were gven today by Allan W. Lundstrum of Columbus, Ohio Fuel president, in a letter to company employes.

Ohio Fuel's record, in providing gas heat for virtually all customers who want it, "is not commonplace," Lundstrum said.

Thousands of people, in hundreds of communities in other Midwest states, still are waiting for gas to heat their homes, he pointed out.

"WE ARE serving our customers, vrtually without restrictions, because our parent company, Columbia Gas System, has done all the things that had to be done to get the gas," Lundstrum said. "Columbia contracted for an immense supply of gas in Louisiana and promoted the construction of a huge pipeline to deliver the gas into the system."

Since 1946 Ohio Fuel has spent $166 million for facilities to improve service and to store and deliver more gas. Additional millions will be spent in 1956, Lundstrum said.

"With Ohio Fuel borrowing more millions of dollars—to pay for facilities to serve our customers—our responsibilites become greater," Lundstrum said. "We must continue to operate with all effeciency, and get a fair price for the gas we sell."

Berlin Visits Cut

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. authorities are discouraging visits to the Soviet sector of East Berlin except on regular guided tours conducted three times a week. The move is designed to prevent incidents.
